Freeman, Goldberg Named

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON — President elect John F. Kennedy today appointed C. Douglas Dillon, a Republican, as secretary of the treasury and his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, as attorney general.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman is in John F. Kennedy's Cabinet as secretary of agriculture, and AFL-CIO lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg as secretary of labor. And there are fresh reports the president-elect's youthful brother Robert will be named attorney general.

The posts of attorney general, secretary of the treasury and postmaster general today are the only Cabinet posts—of a total of 10—still to be filled by Kennedy.

He told newsmen he expects to fill one and possibly all three before flying tonight to Palm Beach, Fla., for a stay perhaps through the Christmas holidays.

Apart from picking a Cabinet, Kennedy arranged to confer with Gov. Foster Furculo of Massachusetts. That session is almost certain to deal with selection of a man to take over Kennedy's Senate seat when he resigns from that position before the end of the year.

The successor will be named by Democrat Furculo, defeated in his bid for re-election.

The president-elect Thursday night picked Freeman, who also lost out in his quest for another term as Minnesota's governor, for the politically explosive job of heading the Agriculture Department.

Three hours earlier Kennedy tapped Goldberg—special counsel to the AFL-CIO—for the labor position, a potential hot spot for a union man in dealing with management along with labor.

Freeman, 42, and Goldberg, 52, are Democrats. They stood with Kennedy at the door of his Georgetown home as he announced the appointments.

After Freeman had been named he stepped aside and was replaced next to Kennedy by Rep. George McGovern, D-S.D., who ran unsuccessfully for a Senate seat in November. Kennedy said he had chosen McGovern to serve as director of the new administration's food-for-peace program — a plan for building good will aboard through distribution of American surplus farm commodities.

Still later in the evening Kennedy touched off more speculation regarding his forthcoming choice for secretary of the Treasury. He did so by conferring at his home with Eugene R. Black, president of the World Bank. Black told newsmen the two had talked about "the financial situation."

Black has figured since Kennedy's election as a possibility for the treasury post. But most of the attention on that position shifted a week ago to Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state in the outgoing Eisenhower administration, after the president-elect had met with Dillon at the latter's Washington home. Dillon has a background in the investment banking business.

As for Robert Kennedy, 35, and the attorney general's post, it is known that the president-elect has offered that job to his brother. But Robert, who was the future president's campaign manager, has been reported reluctant to accept because of a belief it might subject his brother to criticism for dealing out a Cabinet position to a family member.

The New York Herald Tribune said in today's edition, however, that Robert has informed the president-elect he now is willing to be attorney general. The New York Times said Kennedy's brother would be named attorney general today.

Kennedy said Thursday he had offered the job of postmaster general to Negro Rep. William L. Dawson, D-Ill., but that Dawson had turned it down. Kennedy said Dawson, 74, took the position he could be of greater service to the new administration by remaining in the House.

Laos Capital Being Raked By Artillery

Anti-Red Forces Battling To Throw Leftists From City

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Artillery fire raked Laos' capital of Vientiane with a devastating pattern today as anti-Communist Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's forces battled to throw leftist remnants out of the city.

Gen. Phoumi said the enemy was beginning to retreat.

American informants claimed Russians or Communist North Vietnamese were serving the guns, laying precision fire across the center of the city.

"I have helped train Laotian artillerymen and have never seen them shoot like this before," one American said.

The U. S. State Department pledged Thursday full support to the new Laotian government of Prince Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi and promised assistance if necessary for Laos to maintain its freedom.

Fragmentary radio reports from British and American diplomats holed up in the battleground capital indicated Phoumi had consolidated his hold on the southern section of the battered and burning city.

Phoumi's troops were reported driving on the northwestern sector where pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas and paratroopers under the command of Capt. Kong Le kept a foothold. Pockets of resistance slowed mopping up action.

Dispatches from Savvanakhet, the rightist headquarters, said Phoumi had surveyed the city by helicopter and reported that troop-laden trucks were leaving the airport, a few miles outside the city, a possible indication that the leftists were retreating to the jungle.

Phoumi claimed his 1st Paratroop Battalion had speared close to the airport, where the main body of about 2,000 leftists is concentrated.

Phoumi's army is estimated at about 2,000, but all his forces may not be engaged.

As the battle for the Laotian capital went into its fourth day, hundreds of American, Filipino, Thai and Vietnamese refugees flooded across the frontier into Bangkok.

Americans, including women, crawled on their stomachs from the burning U.S. Embassy Thursday to escape a hail of small-arms fire, the U.S. Operations Mission in Vientiane reported. It said the fire came from Kong Le's red-kerchiefed paratroopers in a nearby graveyard.

The embassy was razed by shell fire and by flames which spread from a nearby building.

RESCUE WORKERS rushed to the scene of an airliner crash today in Brooklyn after the big plane collided with another airliner in a snowstorm. The second plane crashed on Staten Island. More than 100 were reported killed. (UPI Telephoto).

7 Reported As Survivors In New York

Brooklyn And Staten Island Crash Sites; Airliners Collided

NEW YORK (AP)—Two big airlines—one of them a jet—collided in a snow-filled sky over New York today, and crashed in widely separated parts of the city, spreading fire, terror, and heavy casualties. It was the first crash in America of a pure jetliner with passengers.

The planes carried a total of 125 persons. Only seven survivors were reported.

Both planes were incoming flights, groping through the murk for a landing. One fell in a densely populated section of Brooklyn, the other across the harbor narrows in Staten Island.

The planes were identified as a Trans World Airlines Constellation, Flight 266, bound in from Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, with 37 passengers and five crewmen. The other was a United Air Lines DC8 jet, carrying 83 persons, seven of them crew members.

The disaster paralleled a crash over the Grand Canyon on June 30,1956 — also between TWA and UAL—that killed 128 persons.

Today's crashes created catastrophes of major proportions on the ground, as well as for the airliners.

"A whole block is afire," police said of the scene in Brooklyn, an area of thickly placed apartment houses near Flatbush and 8th Avenues. "It's chaotic."

Selassie Will Spur Fight To Keep Ethiopian Throne

LONDON (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie was reported today to have landed in Ethiopia to spur the fight of loyal forces to keep his throne.

The bearded "King of Kings," now 68, was reported to have returned to his kingdom from South America after the rebel-controlled radio in his capital at Addis Ababa announced that violent street battles already had broken out.

Other broadcasts and diplomatic reports indicated powerful forces were lining up to resist the revolutionary government proclaimed two days ago in his absence by his eldest son.

The report of the return of the wily emperor came from Gen. Merid Mengesha, his defense minister, in a broadcast over what seemd to be a clandestine radio station calling itself "the former Voice of Ethiopia."

In his broadcast, heard in Aden, Mengesha claimed the leaders of Wednesday's coup already were surrounded by "loyal Ethiopian forces". He ordered all citizens to help arrest the rebel leaders on pain of punishment as conpirators.

The Ethiopian ambassador-designate at Lagos, Nigeria, also claimed that Selassie had arrived in his homeland Thursday night.

Neither Mengesha nor the Ethiopian diplomat said where Selassie landed, and their reports were unconfirmed. Similar reports Thursday attributed to the Ethiopian Embassy in Rome proved false.

A dispatch from Fort Lamy, Chad, in central Africa, made it seem possible that the emperor was back in his kingdom, however. The dispatch said Selassie had landed at Fort Lamy Thursday night and continued his journey eastward, intending to land in Asmara, Eritrea, where forces loyal to him apparently are in control. There is a large air base there.

Cairo dispatches said radio communications with Asmara airport were suddenly cut today.

Selassie landed briefly at Roberts Field in Liberia late Thursday on a flight from Brazil after cutting short a state visit to that South American country. He took off again.

Violent gun battles raged Thursday in the narrow streets of Addis Ababa, the capital, and the Ethiopian radio said several civilians had been killed or wounded in an "inhuman massacre."

He told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Reynolds, and sister, Mrs. Robert Morris of Calcutta in a recent letter he was going to the Ethiopian capital for a medical conference and apparently was there when the demonstrators were fired on. Dr. Reynolds, a Presbyterian mission worker, and wife, the former Jane Barber, and their two children, went to Ethiopia on assignment in June. Mrs. Reynolds parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Patsch of Ohio Ave. The U. S. State Department reported all Americans safe.

Murder Trial Takes Recess Until Monday

Widow Of Slain Man Expected To Resume Testimony At Lisbon

LISBON — The widow of Wyman Capps is slated to return to the witness stand Monday in the fifth day of the trial of her father, Frank Fish, of near Salem, charged with second degree murder of her husband.

Mrs. Kathryn Capps, 22, of Alliance testified on her father's behalf Thursday afternoon after he spent over three hours on the witness stand, relating details of the shotgun killing of Capps at the Fish farm home Aug. 3.

The 56-year-old father of 14 has admitted the slaying, claiming he acted in defense of his life and family in fear of the drunken Capps.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard recessed the trial until Monday for other court business today and because the trial would extend into next week anyway.

Under cross-examination yesterday afternoon Fish maintained an apparently calm and deliberate manner of answering, breaking down into tears only at the very end of his session on the stand.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw had questioned him about his ordering a son, Bobby Fish, and his wife, from the Egypt Rd. home around Christmas a year ago when the son ran up a phone bill over some $30.

Brokaw asked Fish if he weren't carrying a .22-caliber rifle when he told Bobby to leave and when he later ordered Bobby to get out of the car and apologize to his mother for not saying goodbye.

Fish said he was holding a rifle, but that he was about to use it to kill some hogs he was preparing to butcher when he learned about the phone bill.

When Atty. John E. Bauknecht, defense counsel, then asked him

Nepal's King Speeds Purge Of Politicians

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—King Mahendra today pressed his purge of politicians in taking over strong-man powers with reports of widespread arrests including rightwingers as well as Communists.

The monarch, 39, declared his primitive Himalayan Hindu kingdom, sandwiched between India and Communist - occupied Tibet, would maintain a policy of strict neutrality in world affairs.

Gurkha troops guarded the royal palace and government buildings, including the government radio station. A handful of soldiers patrolled the narrow streets which wind between Katmandu's ancient temples and ramshackle houses.

The capital was outwardly calm. But all Katmandu daily newspapers, except one, suspended publication today to protest the king's coup in arresting popular Premier B. P. Koirala and 10 of his 11 Cabinet ministers and suspending the constitution.

The young monarch's blow ending the experiment in parliamentary democracy he launched himself 18 months ago came with such suddenness that both the Nepalese and foreign diplomats were stunned. Nepal has a population of about eight million.

He charged the Koirala government with "failure to maintain law and order" and "harboring undesirable activity"—but did not spell out the charges.

There were reports that Communist leader Pushpalal and Bharat Shamsher of the right-wing Gorka Parishad party had been rounded up along with other leaders of the ruling Nepali Congress Party. They were reported being held in the Army Officers' Club.

The king, who visited the United States earlier this year, returned only last month from a European tour.

(In Washington, U. S. State Department officials said the king's seizure of power appeared to be due to purely domestic issues. A spokesman said there was no indication that the mountain kingdom's foreign policy was involved, including its relations with Red China or the Soviet Union.)

Man Slashed By Pinball 'Wire Tapper'

Dayton Suspect Held For Cutting Chester Legion Member

Paul Green, 35, was charged with felonious assault in connection with the beer glass cutting of Elvet Finley, 52, of Hilltop near Chester, a member of the post.

Chester police said Finley began arguing with Green at the post home yesterday afternoon around 4:30, charging Green was cheating on the pinball machine.

Finley, playing another machine, told Green, playing the pinball machine with two companions from Dayton, to "take the wire" from the machine, indicating Green was using it to register higher winnings.

Finley walked over to the machine and kicked its leg, to make it register "tilt" so Green would lose credit for games won. Green, holding a glass of beer, then stepped up to Finley and slammed the glass against the side of his head.

The glass broke, lacerating Finley's ear and head and also cutting Green's hand. A scuffle followed, witnesses said, but it was halted by those standing close by.

After a short discussion in which Finley was advised to go to a doctor, Green, along with Lloyd Spurlock, 29, and Jack Cockrell, 30, then left the post home by the front door, Spurlock climbing into a nearby car and the other two walking down the street.

A member of the post hurried to the City Hall and notified Patrolman Clarence Lennens, who started toward the post home about a quarter of a block away. Spurlock was pulling away from the curb, but halted when Lennens stepped in front of the auto.

Lennens then learned the details of the incident from Ed Huff, bartender at the post home, and after taking Spurlock to the City Jail, went with Finley toward Carolina Ave. and 5th St. where they met Green and Cockrell. Lennens took them to the City Hall.

Culvert Work To Begin Soon

Wellsville Firm Gets $51,604 Contract

The Board of Control has awarded a $51,604 contract to the Plate Excavating Co. of Wellsville for construction of a new Keene St. storm sewer and culvert near Ralstons Crossing on the River Rd., Mayor Bert H. Goodballet announced today.

Plate submitted the low bid when the board, comprised of the mayor and Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, opened sealed offers Dec. 5 at City Hall. However, since the federal government will reimburse the city for the project, the bids were subject to review at the Corps of Engineers office in Pittsburgh.

Ratification of the Plate offer by the engineers cleared the way for the board to award the contract, the mayor explained.

The federal government promised last summer it would reimburse the city for the work because the project is made necessary by raising of the river pool by the new "super-dam" at Stratton.

The Plate concern now is in the process of arranging a performance bond, which will clear the way for the director to sign the contract, the mayor said. The contractor has indicated he may start preliminary work within a few days.

The only other bid on the project came from the A. S. Helbig Co. of Akron, which asked $96,116.

The new sewer will replace an existing line which will be inadequate when the river pool rises. It will be constructed from an existing manhole in the River Rd. to the river.

The Executive Board acts as an advisor to E. L. Wheatley, international president. The meeting will be held at the Edison Hotel. The union did not indicate how long the session may last, but it said the board "faces a heavy agenda."

2 South Americans, Italian Picked

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named four new cardinals, including the Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo.

Two South Americans and an Italian were the others elevated by the pontiff.

The new Latin-American cardinals are the Most. Rev. Luis Concha Cordoba, archbishop of Bogota, and the Most Rev. Jose Umberto Quintero, archbishop of Caracas.

Creation of the four new cardinals will bring the membership of the Sacred College of the Roman Catholic Church to an all-time record of 86.

There was no indication today that the Pope would make public at the Jan. 16 consistory the names of the three cardinals he designated "in pectore" (in his heart) on March 28, 1960. At that time the Pope named seven new cardinals which brought the college to a total of 85, plus the three "in pectore."

The latter, after their names are made known, will be considered to have been members of the college since the March date.

Elevation of Archbishop Ritter brings U.S. representation to six. The others are Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, James Francis L. Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and Aloisius Cardinal Muench, former bishop of Fargo, N.D., and now a member of the Vatican Curia.

John Cardinal O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia, died last August.

The consistory will be the fourth called by Pope John to create new cardinals since he became Pope only a little more than two years ago..

Egads! Santa Given Ticket For Parking!

There was mutual consternation Thursday night when Meter Maids placed a ticket on a car parked in Diamond Alley near Washington St.

It astonished the car's owner, Santa Claus, and it shook up the Meter Maids when St. Nick appeared at their office at City Hall in full uniform to talk about the citation, just like any other motorist.

Santa was busy in the toy department at the D. M. Ogilive & Co. store, listening to youngster's Christmas lists. Because of his unique position, he has an agreement with the police department that he may park in the alley near the store, leaving a sign in the windshield to explain it's Santa's car.

But the windshield steamed last night and the piece of gummed tape holding the sign was affected, allowing the notice to fall onto the auto's floor.

So Santa Claus got a ticket.

'Human Bomb' Arrested

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 73-year-old little man with wavy white hair was held in $100,000 bond today on a charge that he intended to turn himself into a human bomb aimed at the life of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Richard Paul Pavlick, retired postal worker from Belmont, N.H., was given a hearing before U.S. Commissioner George L. Pink Thursday night. Pink said the bond was one of the highest ever set in this city.

Pavlick was arrested Thursday in Palm Beach and officers said they seized several sticks of dynamite, blasting caps, wiring and other paraphernalia in his automobile and motel room.

Assistant U.S. Dist. Atty. Robert Rust of Miami requested the $100,000 bond. John Marshall, a Secret Service agent from Miami, said Pavlick probably would be taken to Miami today.

Pavlick's arrest by Patrolman Lester Free for a traffic violation ended a nationwide hunt for the little ex-postal clerk. Agents would not divulge how they found him but indicated a general alert was out for him.

At the hearing, Rust said Pavlick had let them inspect his car Thursday afternoon and that they

Widow Of Slain Man Expected To Resume Testimony At Lisbon

LISBON — The widow of Wyman Capps is slated to return to the witness stand Monday in the fifth day of the trial of her father, Frank Fish, of near Salem, charged with second degree murder of her husband.

Mrs. Kathryn Capps, 22, of Alliance testified on her father's behalf Thursday afternoon after he spent over three hours on the witness stand, relating details of the shotgun killing of Capps at the Fish farm home Aug. 3.

The 56-year-old father of 14 has admitted the slaying, claiming he acted in defense of his life and family in fear of the drunken Capps.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard recessed the trial until Monday for other court business today and because the trial would extend into next week anyway.

Under cross-examination yesterday afternoon Fish maintained an apparently calm and deliberate manner of answering, breaking down into tears only at the very end of his session on the stand.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw had questioned him about his ordering a son, Bobby Fish, and his wife, from the Egypt Rd. home around Christmas a year ago when the son ran up a phone bill over some $30.

Brokaw asked Fish if he weren't carrying a .22-caliber rifle when he told Bobby to leave and when he later ordered Bobby to get out of the car and apologize to his mother for not saying goodbye.

Fish said he was holding a rifle, but that he was about to use it to kill some hogs he was preparing to butcher when he learned about the phone bill.

When Atty. John E. Bauknecht, defense counsel, then asked him

Nepal's King Speeds Purge Of Politicians

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—King Mahendra today pressed his purge of politicians in taking over strong-man powers with reports of widespread arrests including rightwingers as well as Communists.

The monarch, 39, declared his primitive Himalayan Hindu kingdom, sandwiched between India and Communist - occupied Tibet, would maintain a policy of strict neutrality in world affairs.

Gurkha troops guarded the royal palace and government buildings, including the government radio station. A handful of soldiers patrolled the narrow streets which wind between Katmandu's ancient temples and ramshackle houses.

The capital was outwardly calm. But all Katmandu daily newspapers, except one, suspended publication today to protest the king's coup in arresting popular Premier B. P. Koirala and 10 of his 11 Cabinet ministers and suspending the constitution.

The young monarch's blow ending the experiment in parliamentary democracy he launched himself 18 months ago came with such suddenness that both the Nepalese and foreign diplomats were stunned. Nepal has a population of about eight million.

He charged the Koirala government with "failure to maintain law and order" and "harboring undesirable activity"—but did not spell out the charges.

There were reports that Communist leader Pushpalal and Bharat Shamsher of the right-wing Gorka Parishad party had been rounded up along with other leaders of the ruling Nepali Congress Party. They were reported being held in the Army Officers' Club.

The king, who visited the United States earlier this year, returned only last month from a European tour.

(In Washington, U. S. State Department officials said the king's seizure of power appeared to be due to purely domestic issues. A spokesman said there was no indication that the mountain kingdom's foreign policy was involved, including its relations with Red China or the Soviet Union.)

Man Slashed By Pinball 'Wire Tapper'

Dayton Suspect Held For Cutting Chester Legion Member

The slashing of a Chester area man in a pinball machine dispute at the Chester American Legion Post 121 home Thursday afternoon resulted in the arrest of three Dayton men for investigation of possible tampering with coin-operated machines in this area.

Paul Green, 35, was charged with felonious assault in connection with the beer glass cutting of Elvet Finley, 52, of Hilltop near Chester, a member of the post.

Chester police said Finley began arguing with Green at the post home yesterday afternoon around 4:30, charging Green was cheating on the pinball machine.

Finley, playing another machine, told Green, playing the pinball machine with two companions from Dayton, to "take the wire" from the machine, indicating Green was using it to register higher winnings.

Finley walked over to the machine and kicked its leg, to make it register "tilt" so Green would lose credit for games won. Green, holding a glass of beer, then stepped up to Finley and slammed the glass against the side of his head.

The glass broke, lacerating Finley's ear and head and also cutting Green's hand. A scuffle followed, witnesses said, but it was halted by those standing close by.

After a short discussion in which Finley was advised to go to a doctor, Green, along with Lloyd Spurlock, 29, and Jack Cockrell, 30, then left the post home by the front door, Spurlock climbing into a nearby car and the other two walking down the street.

A member of the post hurried to the City Hall and notified Patrolman Clarence Lennens, who started toward the post home about a quarter of a block away. Spurlock was pulling away from the curb, but halted when Lennens stepped in front of the auto.

Lennens then learned the details of the incident from Ed Huff, bartender at the post home, and after taking Spurlock to the City Jail, went with Finley toward Carolina Ave. and 5th St. where they met Green and Cockrell. Lennens took them to the City Hall.

Wellsville Firm Gets $51,604 Contract

The Board of Control has awarded a $51,604 contract to the Plate Excavating Co. of Wellsville for construction of a new Keene St. storm sewer and culvert near Ralstons Crossing on the River Rd., Mayor Bert H. Goodballet announced today.

Plate submitted the low bid when the board, comprised of the mayor and Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, opened sealed offers Dec. 5 at City Hall. However, since the federal government will reimburse the city for the project, the bids were subject to review at the Corps of Engineers office in Pittsburgh.

Ratification of the Plate offer by the engineers cleared the way for the board to award the contract, the mayor explained.

The federal government promised last summer it would reimburse the city for the work because the project is made necessary by raising of the river pool by the new "super-dam" at Stratton.

The Plate concern now is in the process of arranging a performance bond, which will clear the way for the director to sign the contract, the mayor said. The contractor has indicated he may start preliminary work within a few days.

The only other bid on the project came from the A. S. Helbig Co. of Akron, which asked $96,116.

The new sewer will replace an existing line which will be inadequate when the river pool rises. It will be constructed from an existing manhole in the River Rd. to the river.

2 South Americans, Italian Picked

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named four new cardinals, including the Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo.

Two South Americans and an Italian were the others elevated by the pontiff.

The new Latin-American cardinals are the Most. Rev. Luis Concha Cordoba, archbishop of Bogota, and the Most Rev. Jose Umberto Quintero, archbishop of Caracas.

Creation of the four new cardinals will bring the membership of the Sacred College of the Roman Catholic Church to an all-time record of 86.

There was no indication today that the Pope would make public at the Jan. 16 consistory the names of the three cardinals he designated "in pectore" (in his heart) on March 28, 1960. At that time the Pope named seven new cardinals which brought the college to a total of 85, plus the three "in pectore."

The latter, after their names are made known, will be considered to have been members of the college since the March date.

Elevation of Archbishop Ritter brings U.S. representation to six. The others are Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, James Francis L. Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and Aloisius Cardinal Muench, former bishop of Fargo, N.D., and now a member of the Vatican Curia.

John Cardinal O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia, died last August.

The consistory will be the fourth called by Pope John to create new cardinals since he became Pope only a little more than two years ago..

Egads! Santa Given Ticket For Parking!

There was mutual consternation Thursday night when Meter Maids placed a ticket on a car parked in Diamond Alley near Washington St.

It astonished the car's owner, Santa Claus, and it shook up the Meter Maids when St. Nick appeared at their office at City Hall in full uniform to talk about the citation, just like any other motorist.

Santa was busy in the toy department at the D. M. Ogilive & Co. store, listening to youngster's Christmas lists. Because of his unique position, he has an agreement with the police department that he may park in the alley near the store, leaving a sign in the windshield to explain it's Santa's car.

But the windshield steamed last night and the piece of gummed tape holding the sign was affected, allowing the notice to fall onto the auto's floor.

So Santa Claus got a ticket.

'Human Bomb' Arrested

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 73-year-old little man with wavy white hair was held in $100,000 bond today on a charge that he intended to turn himself into a human bomb aimed at the life of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Richard Paul Pavlick, retired postal worker from Belmont, N.H., was given a hearing before U.S. Commissioner George L. Pink Thursday night. Pink said the bond was one of the highest ever set in this city.

Pavlick was arrested Thursday in Palm Beach and officers said they seized several sticks of dynamite, blasting caps, wiring and other paraphernalia in his automobile and motel room.

Assistant U.S. Dist. Atty. Robert Rust of Miami requested the $100,000 bond. John Marshall, a Secret Service agent from Miami, said Pavlick probably would be taken to Miami today.

Pavlick's arrest by Patrolman Lester Free for a traffic violation ended a nationwide hunt for the little ex-postal clerk. Agents would not divulge how they found him but indicated a general alert was out for him.

At the hearing, Rust said Pavlick had let them inspect his car Thursday afternoon and that they

Winter Weather Back With Flurries, Freezing

Winter weather has returned to the Tri-State District with snow flurries and much colder temperatures — and there will be more of the same through Saturday.

Dam 7 at Midland said the overnight low was 32 but the mercury had tumbled to 27 at noon.

Flurries and squalls during the night coated highways still carrying slush from last weekend's severe storm and cindering crews were out again as driving conditions turned slippery.

The mercury is expected to stay below freezing today with a high range in the mid-20's and tonight's low will be a frigid 14 to 19. The downtown had a 32 reading — freezing—about 7 a.m. and the mercury began falling slowly.

Commissioners Reject Move To Vacate Street

County commissioners, at a meeting Thursday in Lisbon, rejected a petition of 13 property-owners in Liverpool Township to vacate Valley Ave. from the south line of Hudson St. to the north line of Calkin St.

The commissioners received the petition at their meeting Oct. 20 and visited the site Nov. 21. They conducted a public hearing Nov. 28 on the question.

"Because of the excessive controversy over the issue, we decided to reject the petition," Frank Wilson, chairman, said.

In other business, commissioners accepted the resignation of Louis P. Kramer of Columbiana as maintenance supervisor of painting for the county; effective Jan. 1. Kramer will become sealer of weights and measures for County Auditor Kenneth Bell, succeeding Harry Gosney of Columbiana, who resigned Nov. 15.

found seven sticks of dynamite in it. Marshall said Pavlick told him he had been treated at a mental hospital.

The charge Pink read to Pavlick said he "indicated that he was going to make himself a human bomb and destroy himself and the president-elect, and further that he disposed of and gave away all his real and personal property in Belmont, N.H., prior to coming to Palm Beach for this purpose."

An official said Pavlick denied the accusation and said he planned to kill himself.

"In a way, I am glad it turned out the way it has, but I don't like the publicity," Pavlick said.

It was reported that the complaint was based on information from Secret Service agents in Belmont, Washington and Boston.

Pavlick, dressed in a business suit, described himself as single and a resident of Belmont. He said his only relative is a sister in Boston. Her name was not given.

Before he was taken from the commissioner's office, Pavlick talked freely in the waiting room. He complained of how rough his job as a postal clerk had been, said the post office was drafty and he had to wear long underwear. Then he began to discuss the condition of his esophagus.

Pavlick, about 5 feet 7, and of gentle appearance, read a travel magazine while sitting in the waiting room, turning pages with his right hand which was minus two fingers. There was no immediate word on how he lost the fingers.

Pavlick said he was accused of driving over the center line.

Marshall said Pavlick never made contact with the president-elect, but the ex-postal clerk's tour included Hyannis Port, Mass., where the Kennedys have a home.

Asked if he had any particular interest in politics, Pavlick replied, "no." He said he thought he was registered in New England as a Republican.

Maplewood Home Fire Causes $3,000 Damage

An overheated furnace was blamed for a fire Thursday afternoon which caused an estimated $3,000 damage to a Maplewood home.

The flames swept the basement and flooring on the first floor of the Merle Bartram home, 403 Burrows Ave.

Fire Chief Charles Bryan said most of the damage was to the house with less severe damage to the furniture. At least one easy chair was burned and other furniture was damaged by smoke and water. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The fire burned a large hole in the diningroom floor and damaged other sections of the flooring.

Firemen received the alarm at 1:36 p.m. and were successful in keeping the fire from spreading into the partitions.

Truck Driver Fined

Dr. Haines Okays Location

Madison County To Be Site Of New 2,000-Inmate Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new 2,000-inmate penitentiary for southern Ohio will be located near the present London Correctional Institution in Madison County.

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, approved the site Thursday. It was the only one considered. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who has been away inspecting state mental hospitals, is expected to concur.

The site is between Ohio routes 38 and 56 north of London, occupying about 500 acres of the 3,000 owned by the state around London Correctional Institution.

DiSalle said in September he wants the new prison completed within two years. But many state officials think it may take closer to four.

Correction Commissioner Maury C. Koblentz, who recommended the site to Haines, said a $20 million appropriation will be needed for the 1961 legislature.

This, on top of $12.5 million being asked by the Correction Division to complete the prison at Grafton near Elyria, would add up to a whopping $32.5 million or more than 17 per cent of what the 1959 legislature allowed to run all the state's prisons, mental hospitals, juvenile institutions and the huge mental hygiene - correction department in 1959-60.

When facilities at Grafton and Lebanon are ready, the idea is to make Mansfield Reformatory the penitentiary for northern Ohio, and this new prison the penitentiary for southern Ohio. In addition, the new prison is to have an 800-man special building for psychopathic offenders from all over the state,

Under this long-range plan, Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus—with its costly maintenance and potentially dangerous center-of-the-city location—would be emptied.

In his recommendations to Haines, Koblentz said there is enough water at the London site to meet requirements of 800,000 gallons a day, that the community already is used to the presence of a prison, that facilities (and guards in an emergency) can be shared to some degree with London Correctional Institution and that those now employed at Ohio Penitentiary can commute if and when the Columbus prison is closed.

Koblentz also suggested that the State Controlling Board might release an estimated $250,000 saved by using state-owned land for the prison at Grafton. This could be used for preliminary planning and water development at London, he said.

New Plan To Sell More Cars Offers U.S. Bonds As Rebates

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The auto industry today studied without official comment George Romney's newest gimmick to sell more American Motors cars by offering buyers rebates of government savings bonds.

Romney announced the plan Thursday with a flourish in a news conference in a plush New York hotel. He called it sharing progress with the neglected consumer and invited the rest of the auto companies to join him.

Apparently there will be no mad rush to do so.

Privately, various auto men expressed the opinion that Romney's plan will create considerable interes and probably help his sales.

Romney is highly regarded by his competitors, both personally and as a shrewd business man. He is credited with singlehandedly selling the American public on the idea of a compact car—the size which currently is accounting for at least 30 per cent of all automobile sales.

Basically the program calls for a rebate of one $25 bond to each customer for each 10 per cent increase over last year's sales which American Motors accomplishes in the four months dating back to Dec. 1.

If sales increase 10 per cent, every buyer gets one $25 bond. If the increase is 20 per cent, $50 in bonds; 30 per cent means $75 in bonds; 40 per cent means $100 in bonds and 50 per cent or more means $125 in bonds.

The plan applies equally to buyers whether they purchase the tiny imported Metropolitan or the much larger Ambassador V8. But there are certain restrictions.

These include: Delivery must be made between Dec. 1 and March 31. The maximum payment is $125 in bonds. The program applies only in the United States. The rebate is not applied to cars bought by the government.

Reds Say U.S. Congo Envoy 'Traitor Adviser'

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda said today Clare H. Timberlake, U.S. ambassador in the Congo, was "adviser of a gang of traitors" headed by Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief.

went to the Meter Maid office in full regalia to enquire about the ticket. In a Christmas mood like the rest of the city, the Meter Maids told him the citation was forgiven.

"Maybe we won't get anything for Christmas now," the Meter Maids commented today. "It's the wrong time of the year to give a ticket to Santa Claus."

Santa gave the Meter Maids an address in the Fredericktown area where Robert M. Matthews lives.

Police Chief Harold Davis and Lennens questioned the trio, who said they were car dealers and in this area to repossess autos.

Plastic tools were found on Green, who said he used them to open locked cars he was repossessing.

Further investigation is being made of the three men for involvement in previous offenses. Police said Spurlock and Cockrell have records of passing bad checks at Cincinnati.

It was reported the men are suspected of tampering with various types of coin-operated machines, including slot machines in the area.

Trial

what he had done the same day he ordered Bobby out, Fish bent his head and sobbed briefly, saying he told the family to ask Bobby and his wife and another daughter, Helen, to come back which they did.

Brokaw's questioning brought out that Bobby is currently in an Alabama prison.

Capps, 37, a native of the Jasper (Ala.) area was an escapee from an Alabama prison farm who reportedly told Fish he was on parole. Capps and his wife had been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Fish for about four weeks prior to the killing.

Brokaw asked Fish why he didn't shoot Capps in the legs to wound him if he felt he had to prevent him from coming into the house. Fish said Capps may have shot him then, for he believed his son-in-law had some kind of a weapon and Fish had a single-shot gun.

"You could have stayed in the house, closed the door. Didn't that occur to you?" "No," Fish replied, "He had a record of breaking down doors — he could still have shot me."

"You could have waited behind the door, yet you went out to shoot him." "Yes, I did."

"You pulled the trigger?" "Yes," Fish answered softly.

Later the prosecutor asked Fish if Capps had ever struck him or anyone in the family. Fish said he hadn't, not in his presence. "I liked the man, I still love his soul."

"Did you go down to the body?" "No, sir, I didn't feel so good," Fish replied, then added sharply, "I've got a man above I got to answer to, mister."

His daughter was on the stand for about half an hour yesterday before the trial was recessed.

Dressed in black, she calmly described the three years of her life with Capps, which was a pattern of frequent moves in and out of her father's home, in the Salem area, to Tennessee, to Jasper and once to Florida where Capps' first wife resided.

She told of Capps' threatening her with a knife on one occasion in Salem and of slapping and bloodying her nose in Florida when he thought she was friendly with an elderly man.

Testifying as character witnesses for Fish yesterday were Russell Smith of Leetonia and William Webber of Salem, men with whom Fish works at the American Standard Radiator Co., and Albert Ashman of Egypt Rd., a neighbor.

Deaths and Funerals

Wellsville Man Is Found Dead

Charles W. Morgan, 505 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, was found dead in bed at his home late Thursday night by police after neighbors had reported that he had not been seen about his home for several days. He was believed about 63.

He probably died Sunday or Monday as newspapers of Monday and later had accumulated on the porch.

He was born in Wellsville, son of the late David H. Morgan and Harriet Minor Morgan. He was a lifetime resident.

His only survivors are cousins.

Services will be held at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville Saturday afternoon at 1 by the Rev. William A. Hewitt, pastor of the Central Methodist Church. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery in Wellsville.

Mrs. Chester Arthur

Mrs. Laura Orn Arthur of Canton, formerly of East Liverpool, died Wednesday at 11 p. m. at her home following a brief illness. She was 79.

She was the daughter of Robert Orin and Mary Orin. She was a member of the Canton Methodist Church. She resided in Canton 38 years.

She leaves her husband, Chester Arthur at home; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Moses of Largo, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. John Billman of Chester and Mrs. Donald Deringer of East Liverpool; a brother, Charles Orin of Lisbon, and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Canton. Burial will be in Alexandria, Ohio.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Services for Anderson D. Noland, 53, of Middlebourne, W. Va., R. D., an employe of the Hope Natural Gas Co., were held Thursday afternoon at the Dale Church of Christ. Burial was in the Main Cemetery there.

He died Wednesday at his home.

He was born in Piney, W. Va., March 16, 1907, son of the late John Noland and Nancy Jane King Noland.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Alma Noland at home; four daughters, three sons, two brothers and three sister, including Mrs. Lillian Crawford of East Liverpool, and seven grandchildren.

Commissioners Reject Move To Vacate Street

County commissioners, at a meeting Thursday in Lisbon, rejected a petition of 13 property-owners in Liverpool Township to vacate Valley Ave. from the south line of Hudson St. to the north line of Calkin St.

The commissioners received the petition at their meeting Oct. 20 and visited the site Nov. 21. They conducted a public hearing Nov. 28 on the question.

"Because of the excessive controversy over the issue, we decided to reject the petition," Frank Wilson, chairman, said.

In other business, commissioners accepted the resignation of Louis P. Kramer of Columbiana as maintenance supervisor of painting for the county; effective Jan. 1. Kramer will become sealer of weights and measures for County Auditor Kenneth Bell, succeeding Harry Gosney of Columbiana, who resigned Nov. 15.

found seven sticks of dynamite in it. Marshall said Pavlick told him he had been treated at a mental hospital.

The charge Pink read to Pavlick said he "indicated that he was going to make himself a human bomb and destroy himself and the president-elect, and further that he disposed of and gave away all his real and personal property in Belmont, N.H., prior to coming to Palm Beach for this purpose."

An official said Pavlick denied the accusation and said he planned to kill himself.

"In a way, I am glad it turned out the way it has, but I don't like the publicity," Pavlick said.

It was reported that the complaint was based on information from Secret Service agents in Belmont, Washington and Boston.

Pavlick, dressed in a business suit, described himself as single and a resident of Belmont. He said his only relative is a sister in Boston. Her name was not given.

Before he was taken from the commissioner's office, Pavlick talked freely in the waiting room. He complained of how rough his job as a postal clerk had been, said the post office was drafty and he had to wear long underwear. Then he began to discuss the condition of his esophagus.

Pavlick, about 5 feet 7, and of gentle appearance, read a travel magazine while sitting in the waiting room, turning pages with his right hand which was minus two fingers. There was no immediate word on how he lost the fingers.

Pavlick said he was accused of driving over the center line.

Marshall said Pavlick never made contact with the president-elect, but the ex-postal clerk's tour included Hyannis Port, Mass., where the Kennedys have a home.

Asked if he had any particular interest in politics, Pavlick replied, "no." He said he thought he was registered in New England as a Republican.

Maplewood Home Fire Causes $3,000 Damage

An overheated furnace was blamed for a fire Thursday afternoon which caused an estimated $3,000 damage to a Maplewood home.

The flames swept the basement and flooring on the first floor of the Merle Bartram home, 403 Burrows Ave.

Fire Chief Charles Bryan said most of the damage was to the house with less severe damage to the furniture. At least one easy chair was burned and other furniture was damaged by smoke and water. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The fire burned a large hole in the diningroom floor and damaged other sections of the flooring.

Firemen received the alarm at 1:36 p.m. and were successful in keeping the fire from spreading into the partitions.

Truck Driver Fined

NEW CUMBERLAND — Michael Leas, 45, of Mingo Junction was fined $20 and costs Thursday by Squire John D. Herron for failure to have a road tax plate attached to his tractor-trailer rig. He was cited at 3:30 p.m. on Route 66 by West Virginia State Police.

Dr. Haines Okays Location

Madison County To Be Site Of New 2,000-Inmate Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new 2,000-inmate penitentiary for southern Ohio will be located near the present London Correctional Institution in Madison County.

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, approved the site Thursday. It was the only one considered. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who has been away inspecting state mental hospitals, is expected to concur.

The site is between Ohio routes 38 and 56 north of London, occupying about 500 acres of the 3,000 owned by the state around London Correctional Institution.

DiSalle said in September he wants the new prison completed within two years. But many state officials think it may take closer to four.

Correction Commissioner Maury C. Koblentz, who recommended the site to Haines, said a $20 million appropriation will be needed for the 1961 legislature.

This, on top of $12.5 million being asked by the Correction Division to complete the prison at Grafton near Elyria, would add up to a whopping $32.5 million or more than 17 per cent of what the 1959 legislature allowed to run all the state's prisons, mental hospitals, juvenile institutions and the huge mental hygiene - correction department in 1959-60.

When facilities at Grafton and Lebanon are ready, the idea is to make Mansfield Reformatory the penitentiary for northern Ohio, and this new prison the penitentiary for southern Ohio. In addition, the new prison is to have an 800-man special building for psychopathic offenders from all over the state.

Under this long-range plan, Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus—with its costly maintenance and potentially dangerous center-of-the-city location—would be emptied.

In his recommendations to Haines, Koblentz said there is enough water at the London site to meet requirements of 800,000 gallons a day, that the community already is used to the presence of a prison, that facilities (and guards in an emergency) can be shared to some degree with London Correctional Institution and that those now employed at Ohio Penitentiary can commute if and when the Columbus prison is closed.

Koblentz also suggested that the State Controlling Board might release an estimated $250,000 saved by using state-owned land for the prison at Grafton. This could be used for preliminary planning and water development at London, he said.

New Plan To Sell More Cars Offers U.S. Bonds As Rebates

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The auto industry today studied without official comment George Romney's newest gimmick to sell more American Motors cars by offering buyers rebates of government savings bonds.

Romney announced the plan Thursday with a flourish in a news conference in a plush New York hotel. He called it sharing progress with the neglected consumer and invited the rest of the auto companies to join him.

Apparently there will be no mad rush to do so.

Privately, various auto men expressed the opinion that Romney's plan will create considerable interes and probably help his sales.

Romney is highly regarded by his competitors, both personally and as a shrewd business man. He is credited with singlehandedly selling the American public on the idea of a compact car—the size which currently is accounting for at least 30 per cent of all automobile sales.

Basically the program calls for a rebate of one $25 bond to each customer for each 10 per cent increase over last year's sales which American Motors accomplishes in the four months dating back to Dec. 1.

If sales increase 10 per cent, every buyer gets one $25 bond. If the increase is 20 per cent, $50 in bonds; 30 per cent means $75 in bonds; 40 per cent means $100 in bonds and 50 per cent or more means $125 in bonds.

The plan applies equally to buyers whether they purchase the tiny imported Metropolitan or the much larger Ambassador V8. But there are certain restrictions.

These include: Delivery must be made between Dec. 1 and March 31. The maximum payment is $125 in bonds. The program applies only in the United States. The rebate is not applied to cars bought by the government.

Reds Say U.S. Congo Envoy 'Traitor Adviser'

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda said today Clare H. Timberlake, U.S. ambassador in the Congo, was "adviser of a gang of traitors" headed by Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief.

How Sly Is This Fox?

Among the nickname given Emperor Haile Selassie, whose son has pushed him off the throne of Ethiopia, is "Sly Fox of Harrar."

When the circumstances of this pushing episode are considered, the question that comes to mind is whether the aging emperor may be living up to his nickname.

He is 68. The calendar has become a problem as he ponders the problems of his office. It is not too much different now in his realm than it has been in the past, when the order of succession for rulers was like the order of succession among bull walruses; the top job belonged to the young if they could take it away from the old.

THE EMPEROR of Ethiopia has a son, 44-year-old Asfa Wassan, bearing the title of crown prince. The calendar has become a problem for Asfa, too. His crown princeship is not the sort of thing that improves with age. There is always the question in these matters of bearing another walrus to the punch.

That could be where the "Sly Fox of Harrar" earned his nickname—by answering the question about who is going to beat whom to the punch.

Someone, sometime, somehow is going to be the next emperor of Ethiopia, a title Haile Selassie nailed down by beating someone else to the punch.

So, instead of waiting for someone, sometime, somehow to push him off the throne by surprise, a sly-fox emperor might think of taking a trip out of the country, having prearranged for his own son to stage a coup d'etat in his absence.

Then, when he returned, the deed would have been done. All others who had been thinking about doing it would be handicapped by lack of popular demand for a new regime; there already was a new regime. And because the deposed emperor had been a decent sort, there could be forgiveness. He could spend his remaining years playing with his grandchildren.

ABOUT THE HARSH things Crown Prince Asfa has said . . . surely, Americans can understand that when the time comes to change leadership the people must be led to believe the Promised Land is about to be entered and therein will flow rivers of honey past the foot of cinnamon-bun mountains.

Long live the emperor of Ethiopia! Long live the "Sly Fox of Harrar," if Haile Selassie has lived up to his nickname. Otherwise, long live all the young bull walruses.

All The Form Players Could Be Wrong

Taking shape in the American League is one of those engrossing challenges to human resourcefulness that keep the underdog from being crushed to earth.

The two teams that will pad out league membership to 10 — the Los Angeles Angels and the Washington Senators—are being put together from lists of dispensable players posted by the existing eight teams.

Naturally, players considered dispensable are not the pick of the lot. Some never clinched their status as big leaguers. Some are still learning. Some are over the hill.

This fact has been pounced on by form players as proof positive that the Senators and Angels will finish ninth and tenth in 1961. The form players argue, as they always do, that no baseball player can rise above his potential, forgetting—as they always do—the incredible things that have been done by journeyman ballplayers under special pressure.

Banjo hitters have zinged home runs into distant stands. Fielders have made impossible catches. Pitchers with high earned-run averages have pitched shutouts and no-hitters when big money was at stake. But of course it doesn't figure to happen, as form players tirelessly explain.

It didn't figure to happen this year in professional football, either. But the Green Bay Packers, who were struggling to stay in the National Football League last year, now are standing atop the heap in their division with virtually the same roster they had last year.

The explanation is that they were trying to prove something this year. They were playing under a coach who wouldn't take defeat gracefully. Players once considered so dispensable they were sent to Green Bay where they could do no harm now are enjoying themselves at the expense of presumably better players.

It makes an exciting possibility for next year's 10-team American League race. The dipensables might be trying to prove something. They might even beat the Yankees.

Batista Had His Troubles, Too

Blackmail, ideology and politics aside, no American can blame Cuba's Castro for being furious about the help his enemies are getting from the United States.

His enemies, in turn, are furious about the help he is getting from the Soviet Union. So are many of his friends, because they think the Soviet Union is making a fool of the Cuban dictator.

As far as help from the United States is concerned, however, Castro should try to be a philosopher. Without help from the United States, he couldn't have overthrown Batista.

His help was not official. The United States was officially committed to uphold the de facto government of Cuba, which was headed by Fulgencio Batista. It never gave Castro's bearded revolutionists official assistance.

It is giving Castro's opponents no official assistance now. Nor, under the circumstances, is it giving Castro's regime official assistance. That would be foolhardy.

The facts of geography cannot be revised to suit revolutionists and counter-revolutionists. The United States and Cuba are a few minutes apart by air, a few hours by water. There always will be contact between them—and if Castro is worried about this he should know how much worrying is being done here about having an outpost of the international Communist Conspiracy off the coast of Florida.

The Once Over

Suggestions for inaugural parade formations:

Section I—Ike and Jack in Forgive and Forget Moods. New Cabinet trying to look carefree, but knowing they are taking on jobs little less dangerous than nose-cone trips to moon. Original Kennedy men headed by Governor Ribocoff.

Section II. They Said It Couldn't be Done Clubs of U.S.

Section III. Hat Makers of America hoping the new President will carry a hat, even if he doesn't wear one. U.S. tailors bearing "London Tailors Go Home" banners. Businessmen's organizations wearing hopeful looks but often turning to see if they are being followed by Harvard economists.

Section IV. Hollywood talent scouts. "Pancake" specialists who want credit for winning Kennedy victory by the way they made Nixon up for TV. Election poll takers still dizzy.

Section V. Pro football coaches who ask, "Wanna bet?" when told they don't belong in parade because Kennedy is not entering a football battle. Democratic Safety First League out to make certain that Ike didn't leave that Indian white tiger in White House. Mothers Clubs of Hyannis, Georgetown, Back Bay, Washington and Palm Beach.

Section VI. Amalgamated Association of Barbers who know they didn't fare well under Ike but keep wondering if a long-haired President will mean a business pickup or not. Nelson Rockefeller Wait-Till-Next-Time Clubs.

Section VII. Decorated floats entitled, "From Charles River to Potomac," "Up From Wealth and Comfort" and "Life With or Without Father." Also special float, called, "Jack Revere's Ride," showing new President as he rode hatless through every middle-west village and farm shouting, "The GOP is coming," as loudspeaker proclaims:

> Listen, my voters, and you shall hear
> Of the midnight ride of Jack Revere;
> He said to his friends, "If the Nixons march
> By land or sea to campaign tonight
> Hang a lantern aloft in the belfry arch:
> One if by sea or the city gate,
> THREE IF, PERCHANCE, BY TV DEBATE!"

Section VIII. Stragglers, mostly Pentagon staff members, wondering if they are going or coming. Befuddled GOP politicians who got into parade thinking it was the previous inaugural.

SAMUEL WOLFSON, Jacksonville man, paid $50,000 for three dollars the other day. One was an 1804 silver dollar known as the King of Coins, which brought $28,000. For an 1866 dollar with words, "In God We Trust," missing he paid $13,000, and $9,000 for an 1870 dollar. We knew a dollar yesterday was worth more than today but we never dreamt there was that spread.

Remember away back when an auto muffler lasted two seasons?

New York zoo has a wolf which is afraid of human beings. Any why not? These are times when people are more afraid of people than wolves are.

Nobody will ever be able to say President Kennedy talks through his HAT.

A chance meeting in Lambs Club between son of a famed operator of chain clothing stores and a man 17 years his senior whose father created role of Prince Danilio in "The Merry Widow" launched the famed team of Allen Lerner and Frederick Loewe of "My Fair Lady," "Gigi" and "Camelot" fame. Loewe was a boy prodigy in Vienna and played with the Berlin Symphony orchestra at 13. He came to the U.S. but got no breaks in music. In the early 40's he played piano for peanuts in a Greenwich Village nitery. Lerner's musical experience had been confined to Hasty Pudding Club at Harvard.

"Let's get together some day on a show" suggestion at Lambs Club led to a musical version of "The Patsy" for a Detroit stock company. First Broadway show, "What's Up?" was fast flop as was "The Day Before Spring." But "Brigadoon" hit jackpot and "Paint Your Wagon" ran a year. Then came "My Fair Lady," which has been their private gold mine. Loewe is a wonderful musician with magic of Blue Danube in his blood. Lerner is a brilliant writer who says, "I hold inspiration under gravest suspicion. You have got to get up early and work late to succeed in theater."

Coal May Be Recession Answer

By Victor Riesel

It is not easy to earn one's bread these days. Out of every 100 working people, at least 63 looked for jobs last month. For them it is a depression. For the rest of us, it is a recession—somewhere. How long will it last — this recession—depression? This, I asked of Sen. Paul Douglas last Sunday, now John Kennedy's economic medicine man. The senator replied it would last at least until next March or April. Then a tax cut, and not heavy spending of billions of dollars, should head it off.

Victor Riesel

Tall, white haired Sen. Douglas, the ex-Marine who got it hard and deep at Okinawa, is the gentlest of fighting men. He spoke softly of his toughest battle — getting some six million jobless back to work by next spring.

He told of plans for the swift release of butter and other surplus food to those who literally are hungry. He outlined the setting up of new plants — such as an installation for gasifying coal — in old, almost worked out depressed areas.

But there are those who believe that the senator's brave heart and brave words will fail to head off a depression.

A GROUP OF those who respect the senator but believe he is moving with too little too late, sought out Robert Kennedy.

They lunched privately on Wednesday, Dec. 7. Two eras met for a few hours. And whether or not their decisions made history, their sheer bread breaking did. For in the group of five or six were the old and the new — John L. Lewis and Robert Kennedy.

Here, too, were the men who operate the great mines John L. could shut down with the almost imperceptible sound of a whistle. Also at the table there were the first members of the newest Democratic braintrust.

Mr. Lewis had sat in on the first such gathering 27 years ago, when most of the men around him at last Wednesday's lunch had not yet learned the difference between a crib and a coal bin.

John L. Lewis, now as then, spoke only to make his point — and it was that the nation's economy rests on its bedrock of coal.

To him the black fuel always has been the measure of electric power, of steel, of rails and autos. Hundreds of thousands of his men had been forced out of the pit because he had welcomed what we now call automation.

When first I covered coal, my fingers automatically would write that a miner could slash two tons from the face of the mine. Last Wednesday the figure was 10 tons a day. For this the miner had been punished economically. So had the nation.

THE POINT was made to Bob Kennedy that a coal depression was what really depressed the land. It had hurt not only West Virginia but Pennsylvania, the lower end of Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana, and parts of Ohio, the men of coal said.

They asserted that the revival of these areas could revive the land. They charged that the depressed areas committee could help only for a year or so. They pointed out the release of foodstuffs, the loans to a comparatively few businesses, the building of 10, even a 100 new plants in the depressed zones merely would ease things for a short while.

What was needed, they said, was the additional sale of 100 million tons of coal. This would put 50,000 miners back to work in a week. It would bring in millions of new dollars. It would take these areas out of their depression. Markets for autos, and steel and retail sales would be opened. But just as important would be the precedent set in stimulating the digging of another 100 million tons.

THEY HAD no objection to new laws for the spending of almost $400 million as proposed by Paul Douglas. But they really wanted Robert Kennedy to ask John Kennedy to push the sale of American coal abroad.

Japan will need new tremendous supplies of metallurgic coal. So will Western Germany, Turkey, Brazil, France, Holland. Italy, Greece, etc., right on to Pakistan and India. They're buying the coal somewhere. Why not from us? We aided them..

Why not have the new President say, for example, to Bonn: We helped you. Fine!. Now you buy from us. We can deliver it as cheaply as you can buy it anywhere.

Why not make this a precedent for other products? All it would take would be a sort of presidential personal buy American campaign among our foreign friends.

Letter To The Editor

I would like to use this column to publish a "Thank you" note expressing my hearty appreciation of the City Hospital. I do it here, because I wish to make an impression upon the hearts and minds of the residents of our town and of the surrounding area.

I live in the country. I am a refugee, but I have been a resident here for the last nine years and now call East Liverpool my home town. I work here, although I am not able to make use of my Hungarian teaching certificate for all grades, or to do unpaid social work for the needy as I regularly did in my native land. Here I must earn my living, although I am handicapped as a result of polio. I am proud to say that I have worked in the City Hospital for five years.

Ever since I first began to work there, I have felt that people do not know enough about this institution — its problems, its efforts, its needs, or its achievements. This lack of knowledge often creates a false impression.

I have recently been a hospital patient for three weeks and am proud to say that I have had a demonstration of a fact I already knew, that we should be happy and thankful to have such a fine hospital, with doctors who represent their profession so highly, and with nursing care of such quality that you could not wish for anything better.

So, I wish to express my appreciation to I. North floor of City Hospital for the wonderful nursing care that I received. My heartiest thanks for the excellent supervision of the head nurse on the floor — and to every graduate, junior and senior nurse, who worked on the floor between Nov. 15 and Dec. 5. Their excellent training and practical skills combined with sincere concerne and untiring care give a feeling of security to each patient. day and night.

At the same time I wish to send my warmest feeling to the nurses aides who worked about me around the clock, tirelessly and with smiling faces. Their consciensious skillful, well-trained help make every hour of hospital life more cheerful and pleasant. Just as the nurses give assurance that the doctor is near, the nurses aides make us feel that the family is around us.

My thanks also to the cleaning personnel and their quiet tireless efforts to keep everything bright and clean. Also to the kitchen staff for fine tasty food served so attractively and appetizingly.

After all this, let me explain why I feel qualified to praise this hospital so highly. In my life time I have seen many world-famous hospitals — in Budapest, where my mother was a patient for many years and received the best professional care; and in Vienna, Salzburg, Graz, where I was a patient and where I was attended by Doctor Lorenz, the son of a man who was doctor to President Roosevelt.

Through The Years

Dr. W. W. Miskall of East Liverpool was elected president of the Columbiana County Medical Society.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — About 400 attended the three-act comedy, "Her Incubator Husband", presented by the junior class of Wells High School, Newell, under the direction of Miss Nancy Freshwater.

The auditorium of St. John's Lutheran Church, which had been closed for about five months for extensive alterations, was re-dedicated with special services.

A six-school Hancock Junior High basketball league was formed. It included teams from Chester, Newell, Holidays Cove, Weirton Heights and North Weirton.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Newell Women's Club completed plans for the fourth annual community carol sing in the Church of the Nazarene.

Re-dedication ceremonies were held at the Hookstown Presbyterian Church, marking the completion of extensive improvements.

White And Gray

Freshly fallen snow looks whiter than almost anything else, but individual snowflakes generally appear icy gray.

The seeming whiteness occurs because many of the glasslike crystals making up snow act as prisms, bending light to produce all the colors of the spectrum. Since the crystals are jumbled up, the colored rays emerge from many sides and directions. The mixture of light reaching the eye from all angles appears whitish—or grayish if much of it is absorbed by the snow.

The color paradox is not the only surprise revealed in close examination of snow. Meteorologists have studied thousands of delicate snowflakes and have yet to find two exactly alike.

Variations in temperature and humidity are among the factors that shape snowflakes.

Flakes can be austerely simple or fantastically complex. Most are symmetrcal with six sides or six points. But they can assume the shape or prisms, branched stars, needles, or pyramids, combinations such as pyramids on the end of a prism, or more unusual forms that develop when cloud droplets come together and freeze.

Public Indifference

By David Lawrence

Secretary Of Defense Choice Questioned

Only the indifference of an uninformed public would permit some of the things to happen that are going on in government today. The news dispatches tell of the appointment of a new secretary of defense who perhaps knows as little about the problems of the biggest department in Washington as some of his predecessors did when they took office.

David Lawrence

Experience is thrown to the winds. There is no permanent under secretary to assure continuity in dealing with the defense of the country or to interrelate the stark questions of military preparation with the delicate decisions on foreign policy made by the Department of State.

What may not be generally realized as yet is that after Jan. 20 there will no longer be a military man in the White House. Gen. Eisenhower for eight years has been able to give the country the benefit of his military experience. The country felt safe with a man of his ability to evaluate the recommendations of the military chiefs of the armed services and of the secretary of defense. He is known as a man of peace and not as a military zealot.

THE IDEA of appointing a businessman who is an efficiency expert apparently makes an appeal at first glance but the requirements of the office of secretary of defense are not known even to many who move in government circles.

It takes a careful study of the cumbersome, ambigious and lopsided defense laws to find out just what the secretary of defense is supposed to do.

Most people, for instance, think the president of the United States really acts as the commander-in-chief of the armed forces. Theoretically he does.

Decisions of paramount importance must be made by him but it's the everyday action in the Defense Department on countless matters that shapes up the programs which finally come before a president. Often he has no choice but to accept the recommendations of the head of the biggest bureaucracy in the world.

What is the situation if a military crisis arises and there is a threat of attack? Under present law, the commanders in the field now go through a "chain of command" to the joint chiefs, then through the secretary of defense to the president. Nothing like this was in effect during World War II.

Thus the statute which created the National Security Council, for instance, does not authorize representation for the Army, Navy and Air Force except through the secretary of defense. Not even the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is a statutory member. The JCS is an advisory body and the argument is made that its members may attend Security Council meetings as guests but they have no vote. The military chiefs do not often meet with the president.

THIS SHOULD be contrasted with the system that helped win World War II. There were then four top military men — the president's own chief of staff, the chief of naval operations, the chief of staff of the Army, and the chief of the Air Corps, which was then a branch of the Army.

Gen. George C. Marshall, who was the Army chief of staff in World War II, once told this correspondent that the system used then worked well — and this was during the biggest war in our history.

Adm. Ernest King, the wartime chief of naval operations, also informed this writer it was by far the best way to deal with secret operations. He refused on one occasion to tell even Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox the scheduled time of a proposed attack by American armed forces in the Pacific. He said the President could tell him if he chose.

What should have been done by President-elect Kennedy in view of the world situation today? Since the post of secretary of defense has become, in effect, that of a deputy commander-in-chief, Mr. Kennedy might have been better advised if he had selected a retired military man of prominence to occupy that position and then chosen an efficiency expert as the deputy secretary of defense.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN persuaded Congress to make an exception to its rule requiring that a civilian must head the Defense Department. This occurred when Gen. Marshall became secretary of defense during the Korean War. Such an exception would readily have been made again today by Congress if requested by the new President.

With due respect to the efficiency wizard of the Ford Motor Co., Robert McNamara, who has been chosen as secretary of defense — and he may even do better than most other civilians would—the nation would have been able to breath easier today if an experienced military officer in civilian clothes had been given the post of secretary of defense.

Since the President-elect has not been a commander of large military forces himself, the country would have benefitted if there had been chosen as deputy commander-in-chief a man of experience in military science at a time when the whole world may at any moment be plunged into a major war. Safety is more important than efficiency.

The Pusher Type

By Truman Twill

Leo Durocher, nickname "Lippy," has given an interview to the effect he suspects there may be an unwritten agreement to keep him from landing a job in organized baseball.

His suspicions came to a boil when he wasn't considered by the new American League club in Los Angeles, where he lives. Things are beginning to look like a pattern, he explains.

Whether there's a pattern or something that looks like a pattern to Leo Durocher isn't likely to be proved one way or another. A job-hunter in his position can no more call his shots than any other job-hunter. He can't make anyone hire him.

It might well be that a consensus finally crystallized against the man who will be remembered in the history of sports for saying, "Nice guys never win." Even if it were true, he shouldn't have said it. It was a knock against sportsmanship, which is still important some places in the world, including America.

It could be, too, that the more sensitive moneybags in baseball were fed up with the type of manager who thinks it is a good idea to jaw the umpires all the time, because it makes him look good to the gillies in the cheap seats and gives them an excuse to boo their betters.

That is all umpire - baiting amounts to — a chance for nonentities to boo entities — an opportunity to second-guess experts in an area where the second - guessers have no competence.

In America this is supposed to be one of the inalienable rights, like attending the church of your choice. But in fact, umpire-baiting and all other forms of second-guessing have become a public nuisance in America.

Someone may be trying to convey subtly the idea to some other umpire - baiting managerial talent that there's no future in shooting off their mouths — not all the time, anyway.

There are reports, too, that Leo Durocher's language was not always suitable for the sensibilities of some fans who go to baseball games and sit within hearing range of the participants.

And then, of course, there had been the matter of Leo Durocher's fondness for the company of people who sometimes put a little more on the line than is allowable under the heading of having fun.

Baseball people have been sensitive about gambling ever since the White Sox scandal. But that may be the least of their reasons for not having nabbed Leo Durocher so far to manage one of their properties. He's still young enough to outgrow bad companionship.

But he would have to go some to outgrow the state of mind that made him one of baseball's pushiest personalities — a former day Billy Martin, but with far more skill. There's a school of thought that holds this is what baseball needs, but its pupils' heads come to a point. What they really think is that they need people who push people around, jaw umpires and dirty up the joint with purple language. That isn't the same as baseball needing these people, not the same at all.

Leo Durocher was a pepper-pot. He could make all the moves. He was a battler. He was a joy to behold when he was playing baseball. But he wasn't a joy to behold when he was jawing umpires and acting as if he believed that in this sad old world nice guys can't win. They don't win often, but brother they'd better win once in awhile or pushers would have to push one another and that would be murder.

James H. Doolittle, in 1929 was the first airplane pilot to prove the feasibility of instrument flying.

How Sly Is This Fox?

Among the nickname given Emperor Haile Selassie, whose son has pushed him off the throne of Ethiopia, is "Sly Fox of Harrar."

When the circumstances of this pushing episode are considered, the question that comes to mind is whether the aging emperor may be living up to his nickname.

He is 68. The calendar has become a problem as he ponders the problems of his office. It is not too much different now in his realm than it has been in the past, when the order of succession for rulers was like the order of succession among bull walruses; the top job belonged to the young if they could take it away from the old.

THE EMPEROR of Ethiopia has a son, 44-year-old Asfa Wassan, bearing the title of crown prince. The calendar has become a problem for Asfa, too. His crown princeship is not the sort of thing that improves with age. There is always the question in these matters of bearing another walrus to the punch.

That could be where the "Sly Fox of Harrar" earned his nickname—by answering the question about who is going to beat whom to the punch.

Someone, sometime, somehow is going to be the next emperor of Ethiopia, a title Haile Selassie nailed down by beating someone else to the punch.

So, instead of waiting for someone, sometime, somehow to push him off the throne by surprise, a sly-fox emperor might think of taking a trip out of the country, having prearranged for his own son to stage a coup d'etat in his absence.

Then, when he returned, the deed would have been done. All others who had been thinking about doing it would be handicapped by lack of popular demand for a new regime; there already was a new regime. And because the deposed emperor had been a decent sort, there could be forgiveness. He could spend his remaining years playing with his grandchildren.

ABOUT THE HARSH things Crown Prince Asfa has said . . . surely, Americans can understand that when the time comes to change leadership the people must be led to believe the Promised Land is about to be entered and therein will flow rivers of honey past the foot of cinnamon-bun mountains.

Long live the emperor of Ethiopia! Long live the "Sly Fox of Harrar," if Haile Selassie has lived up to his nickname. Otherwise, long live all the young bull walruses.

All The Form Players Could Be Wrong

Taking shape in the American League is one of those engrossing challenges to human resourcefulness that keep the underdog from being crushed to earth.

The two teams that will pad out league membership to 10 — the Los Angeles Angels and the Washington Senators—are being put together from lists of dispensable players posted by the existing eight teams.

Naturally, players considered dispensable are not the pick of the lot. Some never clinched their status as big leaguers. Some are still learning. Some are over the hill.

This fact has been pounced on by form players as proof positive that the Senators and Angels will finish ninth and tenth in 1961. The form players argue, as they always do, that no baseball player can rise above his potential, forgetting—as they always do—the incredible things that have been done by journeyman ballplayers under special pressure.

Banjo hitters have zinged home runs into distant stands. Fielders have made impossible catches. Pitchers with high earned-run averages have pitched shutouts and no-hitters when big money was at stake. But of course it doesn't figure to happen, as form players tirelessly explain.

It didn't figure to happen this year in professional football, either. But the Green Bay Packers, who were struggling to stay in the National Football League last year, now are standing atop the heap in their division with virtually the same roster they had last year.

The explanation is that they were trying to prove something this year. They were playing under a coach who wouldn't take defeat gracefully. Players once considered so dispensable they were sent to Green Bay where they could do no harm now are enjoying themselves at the expense of presumably better players.

It makes an exciting possibility for next year's 10-team American League race. The dipensables might be trying to prove something. They might even beat the Yankees.

A GROUP OF those who respect the senator but believe he is moving with too little too late, sought out Robert Kennedy.

They lunched privately on Wednesday, Dec. 7. Two eras met for a few hours. And whether or not their decisions made history, their sheer bread breaking did. For in the group of five or six were the old and the new — John L. Lewis and Robert Kennedy.

Here, too, were the men who operate the great mines John L. could shut down with the almost imperceptible sound of a whistle. Also at the table there were the first members of the newest Democratic braintrust.

Mr. Lewis had sat in on the first such gathering 27 years ago, when most of the men around him at last Wednesday's lunch had not yet learned the difference between a crib and a coal bin.

John L. Lewis, now as then, spoke only to make his point — and it was that the nation's economy rests on its bedrock of coal.

To him the black fuel always has been the measure of electric power, of steel, of rails and autos. Hundreds of thousands of his men had been forced out of the pit because he had welcomed what we now call automation.

When first I covered coal, my fingers automatically would write that a miner could slash two tons from the face of the mine. Last Wednesday the figure was 10 tons a day. For this the miner had been punished economically. So had the nation.

THE POINT was made to Bob Kennedy that a coal depression was what really depressed the land. It had hurt not only West Virginia but Pennsylvania, the lower end of Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana, and parts of Ohio, the men of coal said.

They asserted that the revival of these areas could revive the land. They charged that the depressed areas committee could help only for a year or so. They pointed out the release of foodstuffs, the loans to a comparatively few businesses, the building of 10, even a 100 new plants in the depressed zones merely would ease things for a short while.

What was needed, they said, was the additional sale of 100 million tons of coal. This would put 50,000 miners back to work in a week. It would bring in millions of new dollars. It would take these areas out of their depression. Markets for autos, and steel and retail sales would be opened. But just as important would be the precedent set in stimulating the digging of another 100 million tons.

THEY HAD no objection to new laws for the spending of almost $400 million as proposed by Paul Douglas. But they really wanted Robert Kennedy to ask John Kennedy to push the sale of American coal abroad.

Japan will need new tremendous supplies of metallurgic coal. So will Western Germany, Turkey, Brazil, France, Holland. Italy, Greece, etc., right on to Pakistan and India. They're buying the coal somewhere. Why not from us? We aided them..

Why not have the new President say, for example, to Bonn: We helped you. Finel. Now you buy from us. We can deliver it as cheaply as you can buy it anywhere.

Why not make this a precedent for other products? All it would take would be a sort of presidential personal buy American campaign among our foreign friends.

Letter To The Editor

I would like to use this column to publish a "Thank you" note expressing my hearty appreciation of the City Hospital. I do it here, because I wish to make an impression upon the hearts and minds of the residents of our town and of the surrounding area.

I live in the country. I am a refugee, but I have been a resident here for the last nine years and now call East Liverpool my home town. I work here, although I am not able to make use of my Hungarian teaching certificate for all grades, or to do unpaid social work for the needy as I regularly did in my native land. Here I must earn my living, although I am handicapped as a result of polio. I am proud to say that I have worked in the City Hospital for five years.

Ever since I first began to work there, I have felt that people do not know enough about this institution — its problems, its efforts, its needs, or its achievements. This lack of knowledge often creates a false impression.

I have recently been a hospital patient for three weeks and am proud to say that I have had a demonstration of a fact I already knew, that we should be happy and thankful to have such a fine hospital, with doctors who represent their profession so highly, and with nursing care of such quality that you could not wish for anything better.

So, I wish to express my appreciation to I. North floor of City Hospital for the wonderful nursing care that I received. My heartiest thanks for the excellent supervision of the head nurse on the floor — and to every graduate, junior and senior nurse, who worked on the floor between Nov. 15 and Dec. 5. Their excellent training and practical skills combined with sincere concerne and untiring care give a feeling of security to each patient. day and night.

At the same time I wish to send my warmest feeling to the nurses aides who worked about me around the clock, tirelessly and with smiling faces. Their consciensious skillful, well-trained help make every hour of hospital life more cheerful and pleasant. Just as the nurses give assurance that the doctor is near, the nurses aides make us feel that the family is around us.

My thanks also to the cleaning personnel and their quiet tireless efforts to keep everything bright and clean. Also to the kitchen staff for fine tasty food served so attractively and appetizingly.

After all this, let me explain why I feel qualified to praise this hospital so highly. In my life time I have seen many world-famous hospitals — in Budapest, where my mother was a patient for many years and received the best professional care; and in Vienna, Salzburg, Graz, where I was a patient and where I was attended by Doctor Lorenz, the son of a man who was doctor to President Roosevelt.

Through The Years

Dr. W. W. Miskall of East Liverpool was elected president of the Columbiana County Medical Society.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — About 400 attended the three-act comedy, "Her Incubator Husband", presented by the junior class of Wells High School, Newell, under the direction of Miss Nancy Freshwater.

The auditorium of St. John's Lutheran Church, which had been closed for about five months for extensive alterations, was re-dedicated with special services.

A six-school Hancock Junior High basketball league was formed. It included teams from Chester, Newell, Holidays Cove, Weirton Heights and North Weirton.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Newell Women's Club completed plans for the fourth annual community carol sing in the Church of the Nazarene.

Re-dedication ceremonies were held at the Hookstown Presbyterian Church, marking the completion of extensive improvements.

White And Gray

Freshly fallen snow looks whiter than almost anything else, but individual snowflakes generally appear icy gray.

The seeming whiteness occurs because many of the glasslike crystals making up snow act as prisms, bending light to produce all the colors of the spectrum. Since the crystals are jumbled up, the colored rays emerge from many sides and directions. The mixture of light reaching the eye from all angles appears whitish—or grayish if much of it is absorbed by the snow.

The color paradox is not the only surprise revealed in close examination of snow. Meteorologists have studied thousands of delicate snowflakes and have yet to find two exactly alike.

Variations in temperature and humidity are among the factors that shape snowflakes.

Flakes can be austerely simple or fantastically complex. Most are symmetrcal with six sides or six points. But they can assume the shape or prisms, branched stars, needles, or pyramids, combinations such as pyramids on the end of a prism, or more unusual forms that develop when cloud droplets come together and freeze.

Public Indifference

By David Lawrence

Secretary Of Defense Choice Questioned

Only the indifference of an uninformed public would permit some of the things to happen that are going on in government today. The news dispatches tell of the appointment of a new secretary of defense who perhaps knows as little about the problems of the biggest department in Washington as some of his predecessors did when they took office.

David Lawrence

Experience is thrown to the winds. There is no permanent under secretary to assure continuity in dealing with the defense of the country or to interrelate the stark questions of military preparation with the delicate decisions on foreign policy made by the Department of State.

What may not be generally realized as yet is that after Jan. 20 there will no longer be a military man in the White House. Gen. Eisenhower for eight years has been able to give the country the benefit of his military experience. The country felt safe with a man of his ability to evaluate the recommendations of the military chiefs of the armed services and of the secretary of defense. He is known as a man of peace and not as a military zealot.

THE IDEA of appointing a businessman who is an efficiency expert apparently makes an appeal at first glance but the requirements of the office of secretary of defense are not known even to many who move in government circles.

It takes a careful study of the cumbersome, ambigious and lopsided defense laws to find out just what the secretary of defense is supposed to do.

Most people, for instance, think the president of the United States really acts as the commander-in-chief of the armed forces. Theoretically he does.

Decisions of paramount importance must be made by him but it's the everyday action in the Defense Department on countless matters that shapes up the programs which finally come before a president. Often he has no choice but to accept the recommendations of the head of the biggest bureaucracy in the world.

What is the situation if a military crisis arises and there is a threat of attack? Under present law, the commanders in the field now go through a "chain of command" to the joint chiefs, then through the secretary of defense to the president. Nothing like this was in effect during World War II.

Thus the statute which created the National Security Council, for instance, does not authorize representation for the Army, Navy and Air Force except through the secretary of defense. Not even the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is a statutory member. The JCS is an advisory body and the argument is made that its members may attend Security Council meetings as guests but they have no vote. The military chiefs do not often meet with the president.

THIS SHOULD be contrasted with the system that helped win World War II. There were then four top military men — the president's own chief of staff, the chief of naval operations, the chief of staff of the Army, and the chief of the Air Corps, which was then a branch of the Army.

Gen. George C. Marshall, who was the Army chief of staff in World War II, once told this correspondent that the system used then worked well — and this was during the biggest war in our history.

Adm. Ernest King, the wartime chief of naval operations, also informed this writer it was by far the best way to deal with secret operations. He refused on one occasion to tell even Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox the scheduled time of a proposed attack by American armed forces in the Pacific. He said the President could tell him if he chose.

What should have been done by President-elect Kennedy in view of the world situation today? Since the post of secretary of defense has become, in effect, that of a deputy commander-in-chief, Mr. Kennedy might have been better advised if he had selected a retired military man of prominence to occupy that position and then chosen an efficiency expert as the deputy secretary of defense.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN persuaded Congress to make an exception to its rule requiring that a civilian must head the Defense Department. This occurred when Gen. Marshall became secretary of defense during the Korean War. Such an exception would readily have been made again today by Congress if requested by the new President.

With due respect to the efficiency wizard of the Ford Motor Co., Robert McNamara, who has been chosen as secretary of defense — and he may even do better than most other civilians would—the nation would have been able to breath easier today if an experienced military officer in civilian clothes had been given the post of secretary of defense.

Since the President-elect has not been a commander of large military forces himself, the country would have benefitted if there had been chosen as deputy commander-in-chief a man of experience in military science at a time when the whole world may at any moment be plunged into a major war. Safety is more important than efficiency.

The Pusher Type

By Truman Twill

Leo Durocher, nickname "Lippy," has given an interview to the effect he suspects there may be an unwritten agreement to keep him from landing a job in organized baseball.

His suspicions came to a boil when he wasn't considered by the new American League club in Los Angeles, where he lives. Things are beginning to look like a pattern, he explains.

Whether there's a pattern or something that looks like a pattern to Leo Durocher isn't likely to be proved one way or another. A job-hunter in his position can no more call his shots than any other job-hunter. He can't make anyone hire him.

It might well be that a consensus finally crystallized against the man who will be remembered in the history of sports for saying, "Nice guys never win." Even if it were true, he shouldn't have said it. It was a knock against sportsmanship, which is still important some places in the world, including America.

It could be, too, that the more sensitive moneybags in baseball were fed up with the type of manager who thinks it is a good idea to jaw the umpires all the time, because it makes him look good to the gillies in the cheap seats and gives them an excuse to boo their betters.

That is all umpire - baiting amounts to — a chance for nonentities to boo entities — an opportunity to second-guess experts in an area where the second - guessers have no competence.

In America this is supposed to be one of the inalienable rights, like attending the church of your choice. But in fact, umpire-baiting and all other forms of second-guessing have become a public nuisance in America.

Someone may be trying to convey subtly the idea to some other umpire - baiting managerial talent that there's no future in shooting off their mouths — not all the time, anyway.

There are reports, too, that Leo Durocher's language was not always suitable for the sensibilities of some fans who go to baseball games and sit within hearing range of the participants.

And then, of course, there had been the matter of Leo Durocher's fondness for the company of people who sometimes put a little more on the line than is allowable under the heading of having fun.

Baseball people have been sensitive about gambling ever since the White Sox scandal. But that may be the least of their reasons for not having nabbed Leo Durocher so far to manage one of their properties. He's still young enough to outgrow bad companionship.

But he would have to go some to outgrow the state of mind that made him one of baseball's pushiest personalities — a former day Billy Martin, but with far more skill. There's a school of thought that holds this is what baseball needs, but its pupils' heads come to a point. What they really think is that they need people who push people around, jaw umpires and dirty up the joint with purple language. That isn't the same as baseball needing these people, not the same at all.

Leo Durocher was a pepper-pot. He could make all the moves. He was a battler. He was a joy to behold when he was playing baseball. But he wasn't a joy to behold when he was jawing umpires and acting as if he believed that in this sad old world nice guys can't win. They don't win often, but brother they'd better win once in awhile or pushers would have to push one another and that would be murder.

James H. Doolittle, in 1929 was the first airplane pilot to prove the feasibility of instrument flying.

According to the Soviet 1959 census, the population of Russia is 208,826,000.

Airmen In Soviet Union

Families Of 7 U.S. Fliers Foresee Sadness At Yule

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

These are the haunting notes of Christmas this year for the families of seven American airmen imprisoned in the Soviet Union, missing or dead.

Their words, their plans, their letters are poignant with a sadness strange for the season but also vibrant with its hope.

"May God bless and keep you."

"We haven't given up."

"It can't be like other Christmases for us."

Yet, they're striving to recapture the spirit of the holiday. They'll gather around trees and dinner tables, with seats vacant and familiar voices gone. They're sending packages, wrapped tenderly, and mailed hopefully, far away.

"We aren't sure he'll get it, but——"

Of the seven men three are known to be in Soviet prisons. One is dead. The remaining three were dead, but their wives and parents still cling to the thought that somewhere they live.

"I still dream about Oscar," said Maria Goforth of Topeka, Kan., wife of one of the missing, Lt. Oscar L. Goforth.

"Sometimes I see him in prison, sometimes he is starving, and sometimes I dream that he is being beaten with a stick. I refuse to believe he is not alive. But I am afraid for what he is going through."

She plans to go to Puerto Rico with a daughter, Linda, 7, to spend Christmas with relatives and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Teodoro Sola of Aguada.

Goforth, from Sardis, Okla., was one of a six-man crew whose unarmed RB47 weather reconnaissance plane was shot down by the Russians over the Barents Sea north of Soviet territory last July 1.

They had said goodby to their families early last June before going overseas.

Two of the others, Capt. Eugene E. Posa of Santa Monica, Calif., and Lt. Dean B. Phillips of Inwood, N. Y., are missing. One, Capt. Willard G. Palm, the chief pilot whose widow lives in Topeka, was found dead.

Two of the six, Capt. John R. McKone of Tonganoxie, Kan., and Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Plainfield, N. J., were captured and are in Moscow's Lubyanka Prison, awaiting trial on espinage charges.

The seventh airman, Francis Gary Powers of Pound, Va., also is in prison, serving a 10-year term for spying after his American U2 reconnaissance plane went down in the Soviet Union last spring.

"Christmas has always been such a joyful occasion for us, but it will not be this year," said his wife, Barbara Gay Powers, at her home at Milledgeville, Ga.

She has sent Powers two gift packages, despite the high Soviet customs duty, which amounts to about $40 for each $10 valuation, she said. The gifts?

"Mostly warm clothing."

On Christmas Day, Olmstead's parents will reread once more a cherished letter they recently received from their imprisoned son, saying: "I almost hesitate to write our traditional greetings, in the light of all that has happened. Dad, you asked if you can do anything for me. Yes, there is—and I ask it from the bottom of my heart: that you and mom will have a truly merry Christmas."

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Blaine Olmstead of Elmira, N. Y., have sent him a package—a box of Christmas candy, a new shirt, a parka and a Bible with his name embossed on the cover in gold.

His wife, Gail, and their daughter, Karen, 19 months, are staying with her parents in Plainfield, N. J. They will attend a Baptist church there on Christmas day and then have a family dinner.

In Topeka, Mrs. John McKone plans the usual turkey dinner and gift giving for her three children, Cathy, 5; Lori, 2, and John II, 7 months. Her parents will be there and possibly her husband's parents, too, from Tonganoxie, Kan.

McKone wrote recently from prison: "Tell Lori that daddy said since he is gone she must be mam's good helper." And his wife is yearning for another letter—by Christmas.

She has sent him an album of pictures and a seven-minute record of voices of their three children.

"We are thankful you are alive and well and pray you will be home soon, very soon," Mrs. McKone says on the record. "Christmas won't be merry this year without you here."

Mrs. Willard G. Palm, of Topeka, whose husband was found dead and his body returned to this country, said she and their children, Michelle Marie, 11, and Timothy, 4, will have Christmas dinner at home with her mother.

Patricia Phillips, wife of one of the missing, has just moved into a new house of her own in Sacramento, Calif., and will cook Christmas dinner there for daughter Roxanne, 20 months, and other relatives.

Court Studies Board Bid To Enjoin Banks

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A three-judge federal court went into session today on the Orleans Parish School Board's request that four New Orleans banks be enjoined from refusing to honor its checks.

The banks have frozen some $128,000 in board funds. The board says that unless it receives such funds it will have to close New Orleans public schools, integrated Nov. 14 by federal court orders.

The judges were also due to hear two requests for temporary injunctions against creation of a new school board for New Orleans by the State Legislature. The suits were filed by the U. S. government and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The act creating the new board was restrained last week by the federal court, but, in the meantime, the legislature has established still another new school board for this embattled city.

Attendance at the two integrated schools remained about the same. Three Negroes attended McDonogh No. 19, while seven whites—a drop of one from Wednesday—and one Negro attended William Frantz.

Barmer reported on a fish fry held early this month and announced the next will be Jan. 13.

The department will be host to the Tri-State Firemen's Association Jan. 10 at 7:30 p. m., Laughlin announced. He also reported on auxiliary activities.

Salineville Firemen Will Treat Children

SALINEVILLE — The annual Christmas parade and treat by the volunteer firemen will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Santa Claus will ride the fire truck in the procession which will form on W. Main St. by St. Patrick's Catholic Church, and will move to the East End.

Christmas street lighting was erected last Saturday.

Officers said both vehicles rounded a curve from opposite directions. The undercarriage and left side of the 1959 truck was also damaged, the patrol said.

Catherine Pierce, 48, of Lisbon R.D. 1 and Thomas Green, 25, of Minerva escaped injury in a similar crash on Trinity Church Rd. about 4 miles south of Lisbon.

Kennedy Force On Depressed Areas To End First Of Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the Kennedy task force on depressed areas will wind up its first phase of work today.

Six of the task force's seven subcommittees hold their last meetings. The seventh — which focuses on West Virginia's problems — has its final session in Charleston Monday.

The subcommittees submit their separate recommendations to the full task force by Dec. 24. Then the task force, headed by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., meets in Washington Dec. 27 to iron out specific proposals to hand President-elect John F. Kennedy.

The subcommittees, meeting in private, have kept their conclusions secret, but it is known that one subcommittee probed yesterday into the way government contracts might be distributed to economically depressed areas to east unemployment.

The subcommittee also discussed ways that government properties might be turned over to private industry to stimulate employment in depressed areas.

The subcommittee on special problems of the labor force, headed by William L. Batt Jr., Secretary of Labor and Industry of Pennsylvania, is expected to support some form of government loans to industry to help start plants in depressed areas.

Two new members were added to the task force yesterday: Herbert J. Bingham, executive secretary of the Tennessee Municipal League, Nashville, and Charles H. Stoddard of Resources for the Future, Inc., Washington.

Kennedy has pledged to take some action to ease economic blight in West Virginia within 60 days after his inauguration Jan. 20. The task force, however, plans to make recommendations covering depressed areas throughout the country.

Highway Employes Warned About Presents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Highway Department employes are being warned about accepting Christmas presents from those doing business with the department. And another letter cautions businessmen about giving them.

Shipments Reported Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—Shipments of iron ore, coal and grain on the Great Lakes the first 11 months this year totaled 135,285,631 net tons compared with 105,125,970 tons during the corresponding period of 1959, the Lake Carriers' Association reports. This year's total was the highest in three years.

Clemency Hearing Held

Ohio Pardon, Parole Unit Studies Murderess' Fate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Pardon and Parole Commission is pondering the fate of condemned murderess Edythe Klumpp.

The commission held a clemency hearing Thursday for the Cincinnati mother of four children and said it will report next week to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

DiSalle is expected to base his decision on whether to spare Mrs. Klumpp on the commission recommendation.

Counsel for Mrs. Klumpp contended that a lie detector test should absolve her of the murder of her lover's estranged wife. Mrs. Klumpp was convicted in the Oct. 30, 1958 slaying of Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32. She is scheduled to die in the electric chair Jan. 6.

Attorney William F. Hopkins offered to finance a lie detector test to aid the commission in reaching a decision.

A reporter asked DiSalle, who was in Cincinnati, about the case, and the governor said, "I was feeling pretty good until you brought that up." DiSalle said he would not decide whether to interview Mrs. Klumpp at the reformatory until he has looked over the record of the clemency hearing.

The woman first admitted the slaying but later blamed the victim's husband, William Bergen, with whom she had been living.

Hopkins said her second story never had been subjected to a lie detector test.

"You should recommend clemency," Hopkins told the commission. "I feel that a man by the name of William Bergen is up over his head in this crime."

He said if Mrs. Klumpp receives clemency, it would be 20 years before she would be eligible for parole consideration. "She could teach sewing and might help rehabilitate others," he added.

Nutrition Science Bolsters Reducer

Overweights, sit in on a nutrition session. Why not take advantage of every bit of scientific knowledge that applies to reducing? You will lose faster by eating three moderate meals a day than you will by taking the bulk of calories late in the day. Moreover, science has found there is a more effective release of energy and better hunger control when a complete protein is included at each of the three meals, starting with breakfast.

By Ida Jean Kain

You want proof. Food alone causes an increase in metabolism. Therefore, by eating early in the day, you take advantage of stepped-up metabolism by that many more hours! This is termed specific dynamic action. Of all foods, protein foods are the most effective. For this reason, it is helpful to include protein at breakfast.

YOU MIGHT like to test this for yourself. On a toast and coffee breakfast, note the time interval —before hunger sets in and energy lags. The next morning, add an egg to breakfast. Note the difference. Make this test for a week. On which mornings do you have to have a pick-up?

A 200-to 300-calorie "diet" breakfast can go a long way to boost your energy and your morale. In fact, breakfast can save the day.

Include protein at lunch. If you are a homemaker, don't just grab something out of the refrigerator. You won't know you've eaten! Plan a satisfying meal and sit down to enjoy it. Have a double protein lunch.

Hot soup made with a cup of skim milk is comforting. Crisp celery is a good contrast. Choose a second protein: grilled cheese (1 oz.) on a thin slice of rye; or cottage cheese, ½ cup, with two halves of fruit; or a broiled ground round steak patty (3½ oz. cooked weight) on a half bun, toasted. No butter needed. With this, have a hot beverage.

This lunch will stay by you until at least 4 o'clock. Then is the time to have a scientific snack. If you enjoy buttermilk, have a glass; or have cocoa made with skim milk, non-nutritive sweetener, and a drop of vanilla. If you prefer, have orange juice or a piece of fruit. Keep the pick-up within 100 calories.

Use Dieter's dressing, or a half tablespoon of regular dressing. Have a serving of lean meat, a vegetable, and choose either a half potato or a thin slice of bread, with a half-pat of butter. For dessert, fresh fruit.

Every day you follow this slimming pattern of eating (which is limited to 1,100 calories), you will lose from one-fourth to one-half pound, depending on your calorie requirements.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Ethiopia

in Ethiopia said there also had been hand-to-hand fighting in Asmara, capital of Eritrea, and Harar, capital of the country's largest province.

Ethiopian Ambassador Teferi Chareou in Stockholm, who said the revolutionary government was "non-Communist and neutral," reported that the fighting broke out when word spread that the emperor was hastening back home.

Gen. Merid Mengesha, Selassie's minister of defense, was reported by the Ethiopian Embassy in London to be massing troops loyal to the emperor outside the capital.

Gen. Mengesha claimed that a "few disloyal troops" of the emperor's bodyguard had forced Crown Prince Asfa Wassan, 44, the emperor's eldest son, to assume figurehead leadership of the revolt and broadcast claims that all the armed forces were supporting the coup.

A broadcast by Addis Ababa Radio—held by forces of the new revolutionary government — subsequently described the general as a traitor.

It not only proclaimed the crown prince the country's new king, but also named Ras Imeru, 68, aristocratic cousin of the emperor and ambassador to the Soviet Union, as premier. Maj. Gen. Mulugeta Buli also was named new army chief of staff.

"A group of bandits" influenced by Gen. Mengesha opened fire on peaceful civilians demonstrating for the new government, said the broadcast.

Denis Wright, British ambassador, described the fighting so far as "moderate small arms and mortar fire."

British Parliament members were told there was no evidence of Communist interference in the events in the east African kingdom.

The section of Haile Selassie's bodyguard which appears to have engineered the coup was said to be led by the bodyguard's commanding officer.

The bodyguard is made up of elite troops superior in many respects to units of the ordinary army. It consists of about 5,000 men and is equipped with tanks.

Several units of the bodyguard are serving with the 2,500 Ehtiopian troops doing United Nations duty in the Congo.

An American interest is the fate of Kagnew, a primary radio relay point for a worldwide communications network at Asmara. Counting wives and children of servicemen, there are about 2,500 Americans there. There has been no open agitation against the station by the Ethiopian population.

Liz Taylor's Teeth Get Clean Bill Of Health

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A dentist says Elizabeth Taylor's teeth are in perfect condition.

Only a month ago one abcessed tooth was pulled in London and headlines proclaimed that more might have to go.

The actress became ill after arriving in London Sept. 8. Her illness finally was diagnosed as an inflamation of the outer lining of the spinal cord and brain. The infected tooth was given as a contributing factor.

Dr. Stanley W. Vogel of Beverly Hills said Thursday he found Miss Taylor "in excellent dental health."

"You know a good doctor for this?"

It's a question we answer all the time. Sometimes it's someone new in the neighborhood. Sometimes it's an old friend who just doesn't happen to have a family physician. The boy sprains an ankle . . . the baby runs a temperature . . . Grandma has a bad cough. Troubled people often turn to us for help, and rightly so. We work closely with physicians, providing the medicines they prescribe and use in their offices. We know who they are, their specialties, their office hours. In an emergency we're good people to ask. And we're always happy to be of service to our friends and patrons.

Ashland Oil Report Issued

Expansion of petrochemical facilities and encouraging results in crude oil exploration and production highlight Ashland Oil & Refining Co.'s annual report for 1960, being mailed today to the company's more than 40,000 stockholders.

Ashland recently reported that sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30 were the second highest in the company's history. Sales totaled $303,673,338, net income was $14,926,916, and per share earnings on common stock were equal to $2.12.

Ashland has a riverside terminal at Wellsville, shipping by tank truck to district industries.

In a letter to stockholders accompanying the annual report, board chairman Rexford S. Blazer, and president, Everett F. Wells, discussed Ashland Oil's key expansion programs for the year.

Facilities for the production of petrochemicals are being expanded and within another year or two investment in the field of petrochemicals should be almost as large as the firm's total depreciated investment in conventional oil refining.

Construction of Ashland's new Hydeal unit at Buffalo, which will be the world's first unit to produce commercial quantities of high-purity naphthalene from petroleum, is ahead of schedule.

Blazer and Wells reported in detail on Ashland's waterflood program in the old oil fields of Eastern Kentucky, stating confirmed estimates indicate approximately 30 million barrels, reaching an estimated peak of 16,800 barrels a day late in 1963 and declining gradually over the following 12 to 15 years.

Ashland's production of foreign crude oil is proving to be a profitable investment. Ashland's share from Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, was 4,814 barrels a day during the year.

In addition to these Venezuelan reserves, Ashland's share of developed crude oil reserves in the Kuwait-Saudi Arabia Neutral Zone is roughly estimated at 65 million barrels. Ashland has a 12 per cent stock interest in the American Independent Oil Co. in the Neutral Zone.

Manager Of Market Robbed By Young Man

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The manager of an Acme Supermarket here was robbed Thursday by a young man who escaped with nearly $1,000. William T. Rowe, 63, the manager, said he had just returned from a downtown bank when the robber accosted him in the store parking lot and demanded all his money.

Rowe said he told the man "he must be kidding" and then the robber hit him on the side of the face with his gun, grabbed the money and ran. The car in which the man fled was recovered by police three blocks from the robbery scene.

Guilford Lake Women Stage Dinner At Salem

LISBON — Guilford Lake's Delta Eta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority held a Christmas dinner party Thursday night at Barnett's Restaurant, west of Salem.

Winnie Broomall, Ruth Jenkins, Helen Kemp, Ethel Mason and Mollie Schroyer won prizes at games. A gift exchange was held.

Skidding Auto Causes Crash

Two autos were damaged in a ricochet skidding mishap this morning on the River Rd. at the Broadway railroad crossing, police reported.

A westbound auto that skidded out of control as the driver applied the brakes struck a section of railroad iron embedded in the ground to protect the crossing gates and then rebounded against the side of a southbound car, police said.

The skidding auto was a 1960 two-door sedan operated by Edwin C. Peters, 32, of Florence St. It struck a 1957 sedan driven by Wilbur Reese, 45, of the Campground Rd., police said.

Peters said his car skidded as he drove west on the River Rd. and attempted to stop for the crossing. He attempted to pull onto the berm, but struck the section of rail, causing his auto to swing against the side of Reese's car, Peters said.

A skid also was blamed for a collision Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on Avondale St. at Franklin St., police said.

It involved a 1960-four-door sedan driven by John V. Ferguson, 38, of Annesley Rd. and a 1958 model convertible operated by William H. Compa, 1108 Riverview St., officers said. Compa said he was driving west on Franklin St. when his car slid on ice and hit Ferguson's auto.

A third mishap at 11:29 a.m. yesterday on St. Clair Ave. 40 feet north of Lincoln Ave. damaged 1959 station wagons operated by George Singer, 810 W. 9th St., and Bobby Ash, 35, of 1071 Ohio Ave., officers said.

Singer backed out of the Woomer Brothers Lumber Co. property and struck the Ash car, which was halted for a traffic light while headed south on St. Clair, police said.

No Inquest Scheduled In City Woman's Death

Because only one auto was involved, no inquest will be held in the death of Mrs. Bernice Marshall, 28, of 172 Center St., Beechwood, who was killed Wednesday afternoon when her husband's car hit an icy spot and plunged into a gully at Smiths Ferry.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, Beaver County coroner, said his office also considers the death "accidental."

Deputy Coroner Dr. Francis Bush conferred Thursday with Dr. R. C. Costello of East Liverpool, deputy Columbiana County coroner, who had issued a similar ruling in the traffic mishap.

Services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Marshall. Her husband, Kenneth, who was injured in the crash, remains in "fair" condition at City Hospital.

Common-Law Husband Held In Fatal Shooting

CLEVELAND (AP)—Miss Ann Lewis, 32, was shot to death Thursday night in the dining room of her home.

Herman Parks, 34, described by police as her common-law husband, was held without charge for questioning. He said the shooting was accidental.

Detectives said Parks told them he was putting his 12-gauge shotgun away when the weapon suddenly discharged.

Miss Lewis was shot in the head.

Minors' Employment Discussed For Rotary

A discussion on the employment of minors and Pennsylvania laws regarding their hire was presented by School Supt. Ralph W. Jewell, program chairman, at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday night at the New Riviera Restaurant.

The annual Christmas party for children of club members will be held Thursday night at 6:30 at the restaurant. William Moll is in charge of the program.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Teenage Smoking Problem Discussed

There is considerable evidence that smoking can be physically harmful. Certainly no one would argue that it improves health or lengthens life. Besides, it is expensive and rather filthy. Let me confess that I am smoking a pipeful right now while writing this. Yet I admire those who have quit permanently or never started smoking. If my doctor ordered me to quit smoking, I think I would, but I have a secret hope he never will. All very silly, isn't it? Whether parents smoke or not, most of them wish their children would choose not to begin, or at least to wait until they had grown up.

Dr. Garry Meyers

Some parents have very strong and stern convictions and determination on this matter. A few are so sure their child should never smoke that they resolve to forbid him to do so.

—:—

FAILING THEN as they usually do, they feel frustrated and may cause this child to hate them, even to leave home.

Yet a few other parents are so esteemed by the child that their silent or occasionally expressed wishes and example make him choose not to smoke.

A mother from New Jersey writes:

"I have a boy, 14½ years old and in high school, who has decided he wants to smoke.

"He came to his father and me and asked permission, but we find it hard and asked him to wait till he is older.

"He is a very good boy and we have never had any trouble with him.

"His argument is that, when he walks out of school, all the boys and girls offer you a cigarette. I try to tell him he doesn't have to do it because everybody else does. Anybody can say 'Yes', but it takes courage to say 'No'.

"I have given him every reason why I don't want him to smoke, including health and that he is growing, but he always seems to have the answer that he can afford to lose weight and things like that.

"WE CAN SEE his point of view, but can't seem to give him permission. I know he could have started like most boys do and not even asked, but this shows he doesn't want to be sneaky or do something behind our backs."

My reply in part:

It's wonderful your son tries so hard to abide by your wishes. I hope you let him know how you esteem him for this effort of his.

It's better that you say neither Yes nor No to his question, but merely that you wish he would wait. If he operates on a budgeted allowance, he could easily see that the expense would be severe.

Also, I have known some children who have delayed smoking until after 21 because of a cherished prize offered for success. I don't think it will work with all children, but it will with some.

Should he break down and smoke, I hope you will not be abusive and that you will make it clear to him that he need not smoke in secret.

My "Parent's Prayer" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Clothing, Bedding Sought For 4 Burned-Out Families

An appeal went out today to Tri-State Area residents for warm clothing and bedding for approximately 12 Wellsville children driven into the cold when their homes burned in 3 separate fires in Wellsville Tuesday night.

Frank Fusco, Red Cross disaster chairman in Wellsville, said clothing is badly needed for the children, whose ages range from 1 to 16 years.

Besides winter clothing, double beds complete with mattresses and springs are needed for the four families whose homes were destroyed in the rash of fires.

The children face a bleak Christmas unless area residents come to their aid with food and toys, Fusco pointed out.

In addition, one woman whose home was burned is expecting a child soon and clothing for an infant also is needed.

None of the families was able to save anything from the flames and smoke except the barest essentials.

One fire destroyed the home of Thomas Buckel, 202 18th St., and his son, William Buckel, and his family also resided in the two-story house.

The homes of Perry Daniels, 341 Broadway, and Mrs. Mame L. Stevenson, 343 Broadway, next-door neighbor, also were burned. One of the four families is interested in renting a five-room house, at a reasonable charge.

Area residents wishing to donate bedding, clothing, toys, food or household items may contact the Red Cross disaster office, LEnox 2-4427, and arrangements will be made to pick up the articles.

Collections of clothing, furniture and food are being received by Wellsville veterans units for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Buckel.

Anyone with contributions may phone American Legion Post 70, Veterans of Foreign Wars post 5647 or Kenneth Carter, commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285. The Buckel family includes 2 girls, 10 and 4, and 2 boys, 6 and 2.

As both the holidays fall on Sunday, the official observance will occur on Monday, the county commissioners explained. The Courthouse normally closes at noon on Saturdays.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin said the marriage license bureau will follow the same holiday schedule and persons seeking marriage licenses should apply before Saturday of each week.

Jury Convicts Robbery Trio

BEAVER — Three Pittsburgh men accused of the armed robbery and beating of an elderly Ambridge merchant were found guilty Thursday afternoon by a Criminal Court jury.

Ernest Davis, Alex Howard and Edwin Henderson were charged with severely beating Samuel Kroll, 70, and robbing him of $1,700 on June 22.

In a case involving a stolen car and a death, Kenneth Williams of Aliquippa pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter. Similar charges against two companions, Benny Tyson and Robert Elmore, were dismissed for lack of prosecution.

Tyson and Elmore pleaded guilty to using a car without the owner's consent while Williams pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a car without the owner's consent.

The trio was involved in the death of David Reddick, 24, of Aliquippa, a passenger in the car, which crashed through a barricade and hit a cement mixer Sept. 26.

Judge Morgan Sohn dismissed a jury in the trial of Aristotle Tselepsis of Aliquippa, accused of numbers writing. The dismissal came after a juror reported to Judge Sohn that he had received an anonymous phone call from an alleged friend of Tselepsis, who asked him "to do what you can."

Ashland Oil Report Issued

Expansion of petrochemical facilities and encouraging results in crude oil exploration and production highlight Ashland Oil & Refining Co.'s annual report for 1960, being mailed today to the company's more than 40,000 stockholders.

Ashland recently reported that sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30 were the second highest in the company's history. Sales totaled $303,673,338, net income was $14,926,916, and per share earnings on common stock were equal to $2.12.

Ashland has a riverside terminal at Wellsville, shipping by tank truck to district industries.

In a letter to stockholders accompanying the annual report, board chairman Rexford S. Blazer, and president, Everett F. Wells, discussed Ashland Oil's key expansion programs for the year.

Facilities for the production of petrochemicals are being expanded and within another year or two investment in the field of petrochemicals should be almost as large as the firm's total depreciated investment in conventional oil refining.

Construction of Ashland's new Hydeal unit at Buffalo, which will be the world's first unit to produce commercial quantities of high-purity naphthalene from petroleum, is ahead of schedule.

Blazer and Wells reported in detail on Ashland's waterflood program in the old oil fields of Eastern Kentucky, stating confirmed estimates indicate approximately 30 million barrels, reaching an estimated peak of 16,800 barrels a day late in 1963 and declining gradually over the following 12 to 15 years.

Ashland's production of foreign crude oil is proving to be a profitable investment. Ashland's share from Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, was 4,814 barrels a day during the year.

In addition to these Venezuelan reserves, Ashland's share of developed crude oil reserves in the Kuwait-Saudi Arabia Neutral Zone is roughly estimated at 65 million barrels. Ashland has a 12 per cent stock interest in the American Independent Oil Co. in the Neutral Zone.

Skidding Auto Causes Crash

Two autos were damaged in a ricochet skidding mishap this morning on the River Rd. at the Broadway railroad crossing, police reported.

A westbound auto that skidded out of control as the driver applied the brakes struck a section of railroad iron embedded in the ground to protect the crossing gates and then rebounded against the side of a southbound car, police said.

The skidding auto was a 1960 two-door sedan operated by Edwin C. Peters, 32, of Florence St. It struck a 1957 sedan driven by Wilbur Reese, 45, of the Campground Rd., police said.

Peters said his car skidded as he drove west on the River Rd. and attempted to stop for the crossing. He attempted to pull onto the berm, but struck the section of rail, causing his auto to swing against the side of Reese's car, Peters said.

A skid also was blamed for a collision Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on Avondale St. at Franklin St., police said.

It involved a 1960-four-door sedan driven by John V. Ferguson, 38, of Annesley Rd. and a 1958 model convertible operated by William H. Compa, 1108 Riverview St., officers said. Compa said he was driving west on Franklin St. when his car slid on ice and hit Ferguson's auto.

A third mishap at 11:29 a.m. yesterday on St. Clair Ave. 40 feet north of Lincoln Ave. damaged 1959 station wagons operated by George Singer, 810 W. 9th St., and Bobby Ash, 35, of 1071 Ohio Ave., officers said.

Singer backed out of the Woomer Brothers Lumber Co. property and struck the Ash car, which was halted for a traffic light while headed south on St. Clair, police said.

No Inquest Scheduled In City Woman's Death

Because only one auto was involved, no inquest will be held in the death of Mrs. Bernice Marshall, 28, of 172 Center St., Beechwood, who was killed Wednesday afternoon when her husband's car hit an icy spot and plunged into a gully at Smiths Ferry.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, Beaver County coroner, said his office also considers the death "accidental."

Deputy Coroner Dr. Francis Bush conferred Thursday with Dr. R. C. Costello of East Liverpool, deputy Columbiana County coroner, who had issued a similar ruling in the traffic mishap.

Services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Marshall. Her husband, Kenneth, who was injured in the crash, remains in "fair" condition at City Hospital.

Tyson and Elmore pleaded guilty to using a car without the owner's consent while Williams pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a car without the owner's consent.

The trio was involved in the death of David Reddick, 24, of Aliquippa, a passenger in the car, which crashed through a barricade and hit a cement mixer Sept. 26.

Judge Morgan Sohn dismissed a jury in the trial of Aristotle Tselepsis of Aliquippa, accused of numbers writing. The dismissal came after a juror reported to Judge Sohn that he had received an anonymous phone call from an alleged friend of Tselepsis, who asked him "to do what you can."

HELPFUL HINTS —FROM— HOLIDAY CAMERA

ITS ALMOST CHRISTMAS . . . AND THE BEST PICTURE TIME OF THE YEAR. TO MAKE SURE YOUR PICTURES TURN OUT CLEAR AND SPARKLING . . .

FOLLOW THESE SUGGESTIONS

(1.) Buy New Photoflash Batteries if you have had them over three months. It's Cheap Insurance.

(2.) DO NOT try to use flashlite Batteries, they do not have that extra push to fire flash bulbs on time.

(4.) Make sure your camera is set on I or Instant—NOT ON BULB OR TIME.

(5.) Use the correct film. Kodacolor for Color Snaps. Kodak V.P. or Ansco All Weather for B&W Snaps. Ektachrome, Anscochrome, Kodachrome for Slides.

(10.) Squeeze the Shutter release—DON'T JERK.

(11.) For Movies make sure your Litebar is in good working order. (GET NEW BULBS).

DiSalle Inspects 2 Hospitals, Pleased With Their Condition

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle inspected mental hospitals here and in Dayton Thursday and expressed himself as pleased with their condition and operations.

The governor spent almost two hours going through Longview State Hospital here and told Dr. Charles D. Feuss Jr., superintendent:

"I'm certainly very happy with the progress you've made since I was here the last time. If you do this much more in another year, you will be very close to reaching the ideal."

The governor referred several times to "tremendous improvements" at Longview and said they are statewide.

"Another year like this and we'll have the best system in the country," he remarked on another occasion. "I've gone to other states and looked at their hospitals. We have many, many more institutions than they but we're right even with them or ahead."

Dr. Feuss told the governor the patient load has been decreased from 3,300 to 3,100 since September 1959 and DiSalle declared "releasing people over 65 will help."

The governor has been urging that elderly persons not in need of psychiatric care be moved into nursing homes.

He also assured Dr. Feuss that an effort would be made to get more registered nurses for mental hospitals. Dr. Feuss had said there is difficulty in getting such nurses because general hospitals pay higher salaries than state mental institutions.

After inspecting the hospital at Dayton, the governor said it was "doing a good housekeeping job."

"Treatment facilities are better and there is more equipment," he asserted. "All in all, the program has been stimulated to the point where we feel it is indicative of real improvement in the care of patients."

He was told the number of patients in the Dayton hospital also has decreased since September of 1959.

High Utility Rates Blasted By Ohio Unit

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Consumers League of Ohio says Ohioans are paying excessive utility rates under the present rate-making formula.

The league attacked the present rate-making system Thursday in a statement based on a report prepared by a committee under the chairmanship of Msgr. Robert B. Navin, president emeritus of St. John College, Cleveland.

Ralph S. Locher, Cleveland law director, hailed the league statement as "a major breakthrough for the position of municipalities" in Ohio. Locher has been a vigorous opponent of the present rate-making system.

"The present system fails to give adequate protection to the consumers, who pay excessive rates," the league statement said. "At the same time it insures more than fair returns to the utility companies."

The league said it joins forces "with the Ohio Municipal League in favoring a change in Ohio's present law for establishing rates by the RCN method."

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle backed efforts to modify the rate-making formula in the last session of the Ohio legislature, but the move was defeated. Prospects of enacting a change when the next Ohio General Assembly meets are considered remote.

No Letup In Rising Cleveland Jobless Seen

E. C. Schulze, acting director of the OSES office here, said the office has been accepting a weekly average of 5,000 new initial claims for unemployment compensation the last four weeks. The 5,537 initial claims received last week were the highest in this period.

A total of 38,159 new and continued claims were on file at the end of last week compared with 35,944 the previous week and 27,935 a month ago.

"There seems to be no immediate relief in the unemployment picture," Schulze said. "We're probably going to see the usual season layoffs with perhaps additional layoffs this year."

Former Clevelander Believed Dead In Crash

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A naval officer originally from Cleveland, Ohio, is presumed dead after his plane crashed into the stern of the USS Saratoga while attempting to land on the carrier in the Mediterranean. The Navy identified him as Lt. Cmdr. Carl E. Meredith of Jacksonville. Neither his body nor the aircraft has been recovered.

Meredith was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Meredith Sr. of Cleveland. He is survived by his wife, Florence.

Killed In Collision

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Larry W. Atterholt, 22, of Rt. 1, Bellville (Richland County), was injured fatally Thursday in a collision of his car and a truck in southern Ashland County. The Highway Patrol said the crash occurred on a curve on Ohio 39 about a mile west of Loudonville. Glenn Boyce, 39, of Mansfield, driver of the truck, was hospitalized.

Vainly, Michael has searched the ocean bottom for the wreck of the ship containing the black pearl. Suddenly Costenbricker remembers the spot where the ship went down at the foot of a great cliff. They are about to seek the cliff when they find their rowboat in flames.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

"How could it have happened? Who could have done it?" cried Michael.

Costenbricker pointed to footprints leading from the sea to the burned out boat and back to the sea again. "There's who did it! Some monster from the deep. Oh, if I could only swim I'd go after him!" He stamped his foot in rage.

In all his days of diving Michael had found only friends in the sea. Now he shivered to think some monstrous creature might have been lurking there and watching him all the while.

COSTENBRICKER'S rage suddenly departed. "It doesn't matter, after all. We don't need the boat to find the island cliff. We'll travel by parasol."

So saying, he opened the parasol and he and Michael scrambled in. A moment later they were sailing above the islands with Costenbricker hanging over the edge of the parasol searching for the cliff.

At last he cried, "There it is—right below!" he yanked at the parasol handle and they landed gently on the top of a high cliff whose sides dropped straight down into the sea.

"Easy," replied Costenbricker cheerfully. He started unwinding something from around his tiny waist. "I'll lower you on this!" He laid out a rope of incredible length.

While Michael secured his diving gear, Costenbricker carefully tied one end of the rope around a large rock. The other end he tied around Michael's waist. Then Michael dropped over the edge of the cliff and, inch by inch, Costenbricker lowered him to the sea.

There loomed ahead a ghostly shape on the ocean floor.

WHEN MICHAEL looked down, he grew dizzy at the sight of the faraway water. He closed his eyes and tried not to think of what might be lying in wait below. Finally his feet touched water. Quickly he untied the rope from his waist and waved to Costenbricker who was peering down from above. Then he dove headfirst into the deep.

Here was not the clear green waters he had swam in before. No golden paths of sunlight shimmered down from the surface. The water was an eerie blue and all the shapes and shadows he saw were blue. It was cold and still and silent. His heart pounding, Michael walked slowly along the ocean floor, peering this way and that, expecting he knew not what.

Something cold and slimy suddenly fastened itself around his legs and held him fast. He struggled to free himself but the more he twisted and turned, the more securely he was bound.

"What'll happen now?" he groaned and he thought mournfully of Costenbricker and Santa's elves who now might never wake up.

Then he saw that he had merely stepped into a patch of giant sea weed and what held him fast was its slimy branches. Moving slowly he carefully untwined the embracing weed and broke free.

Hardly had he slipped away than he felt a sharp pain in his foot and he was trapped again. Fighting off new panic, he bent down and discovered that a shelled creature had angrily clamped its jaws around his toes.

Holding back tears of pain, he pried open the shell and limped on. He longed to return to the surface of the sea but just when he felt he could no longer stand the pain and the cold and the fright, there suddenly loomed ahead of him a ghostly shape rising from the ocean floor.

He stopped and stared and then he thought joyfully, "It's the ship, the ship at last!"

General Phone, CWA Agreement Reached On Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — Agreement on a new two-year contract between the Communications Workers of America and the General Telephone Co. of Ohio was announced by the union today. It is subject to ratification by the union membership.

The company employs 2,000 workers in 70 of Ohio's 88 counties.

Martin J. Hughes, Ohio director for the union, said the agreement provides for wage increases for experienced telephone operators and maintenance workers ranging from 5 to 9 cents an hour. The current wage scale was not announced.

Fringe benefits incorporated in the agreement include a major medical expense program, an increase in premium pay for night work and four weeks vacation after 25 years of service, Hugh said. The present contract provides for two weeks vacation after two years and three weeks after 15 years.

Agreement also was reached on reclassification of various jobs, Hughes said.

Hospital's Cat Problem Too Much For DiSalle

It's a problem of too many cats.

The governor was making an inspection tour of the hospital Thursday and the superintendent, Dr. Charles D. Feuss Jr., told him "it seems that all the cats in this part of Cincinnati migrate to Longview."

General Phone, CWA Agreement Reached On Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — Agreement on a new two-year contract between the Communications Workers of America and the General Telephone Co. of Ohio was announced by the union today. It is subject to ratification by the union membership.

The company employs 2,000 workers in 70 of Ohio's 88 counties.

Martin J. Hughes, Ohio director for the union, said the agreement provides for wage increases for experienced telephone operators and maintenance workers ranging from 5 to 9 cents an hour. The current wage scale was not announced.

Fringe benefits incorporated in the agreement include a major medical expense program, an increase in premium pay for night work and four weeks vacation after 25 years of service, Hugh said. The present contract provides for two weeks vacation after two years and three weeks after 15 years.

Agreement also was reached on reclassification of various jobs, Hughes said.

Hospital's Cat Problem Too Much For DiSalle

It's a problem of too many cats.

The governor was making an inspection tour of the hospital Thursday and the superintendent, Dr. Charles D. Feuss Jr., told him "it seems that all the cats in this part of Cincinnati migrate to Longview."

what's new at Olsen's

"Ollie Olsen"

The magic of Christmas is sometimes the simple soft glow of remembrance . . . The gift that doesn't say so much as it means. Give the gift that is personally perfect . . . as personal as your own Christmas magic . . . . .

There's one woman in the world for you and she deserves the finest. A luxurious leisure time fashion from Olsen's new and sparkling collection that reflects all the softness, warmth, and brilliance of an open fire. Gifts of enchantment—frothy, frilly, and utterly feminine, exquisite lingerie—lacy and sheer or cozy and warm. Choose a cloud soft duster of arnel or one of a dainty quilted nylon—or maybe she is the type who loves lounging pajamas. Olsens have them for either lounging or napping. Then for the gift of sheer elegance buy her a dainty peignoir and waltz length gown set. Sheer nylon over opaque nylon accented with satin lace.

You'll be pleasantly surprised at the many smaller gifts to be found in Olsen's lingerie department. Remember they are gift wrapped free for you at Olsen's.

Attention all hands! Give her gloves for Christmas! A hint to Santa — she never has enough gloves—especially beautifully detailed gloves that command so much attention by their very simplicity and fine detailing. Olsen's have a complete selection from dressy pearl trimmed to snowy white orlon and wool. In all the newest shades and lengths. Perfect for that little extra gift, priced from 94c up. Speaking of that little gift — have you seen Visions newest hosiery? They are seamfree and there's a new development in hosiery which will give twice the wear in every pair. Every woman loves the sheer beauty of Vision hose. You will love the elegant turquoise gift box with a uranium flower. That's all there is to it—no wrapping necessary. They come three pair to a box for only $4.50. Bring in your list of sizes and the girls at the hosiery department will fill your order. Pick it up later. What an easy way to shorten that shopping list.

Have you visited Olsen's gift Bar on the second floor? A wonderland of gifts for her home. Every woman appreciates those towel sets all boxed and ready to give. Colorful stripes and florals, towels that change the entire appearance of the bathroom. Monogrammed "his and her" percale pillow cases. Place mats with matching salad sets of cherry wood. Easy-care acrilon blankets in wonderful pastel colors all beautifully gift boxed. Dozens of new bedspreads priced to fit right into your Christmas budget. Many, many more delightful gifts to please the heart of most women at Christmas time.

Remember Olsen's are open every night 'til nine for your shopping pleasure That's all today . . . see you next Friday.

Iowa To Take County Motel Theft Suspect

LISBON — County Prosecuor G. William Brokaw Thursday relinquished an opportunity to be the first to prosecute Edmond Maras, 30, of Newton Falls, indicted by the January Grand Jury for a $600 armed robbery in December 1959 at Barnett's Motel, on Route 62 west of Salem.

Maras was apprehended by the Federal Bureau of Investigation Saturday at Tulsa, Okla., on a fugitive warrant, but he will be given to Davenport (Iowa) authorities for prosecuton for a $1,700 armed robbery of a super-market in Davenport Jan. 3.

His accomplices were Ira Richard Godfrey of Cleveland and Charles Harris, 38, of Warren. Harris was shot by Dixon (Ill.) police when he drew a revolver after the trio was stopped for a traffic violation. Godfrey now is serving a 25-year term for the same robbery.

It is expected Maras will receive the same penalty, Brokaw said. Maras escaped from the Freeport (Ill.) jail while he was being held for the armed robbery in Davenport.

Armed robbery in Ohio carries a 10-to 25-year sentence. Maras' brother, James Maras, 20, of Warren, who was convicted by a jury, now is serving such a sentence at the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Forms will be sent Chamber members, asking them not to contribute to solicitations which are not approved by the Chamber's executive committee.

Green, home-lighting contest chairman, said residents who compete must have their outdoor house decorations lighted three nights after Christmas from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. A committee of Chamber members will judge. Merchandise prizes in the amounts of $25, $15 and $10 will be given.

Iowa To Take County Motel Theft Suspect

LISBON — County Prosecuor G. William Brokaw Thursday relinquished an opportunity to be the first to prosecute Edmond Maras, 30, of Newton Falls, indicted by the January Grand Jury for a $600 armed robbery in December 1959 at Barnett's Motel, on Route 62 west of Salem.

Maras was apprehended by the Federal Bureau of Investigation Saturday at Tulsa, Okla., on a fugitive warrant, but he will be given to Davenport (Iowa) authorities for prosecuton for a $1,700 armed robbery of a super-market in Davenport Jan. 3.

His accomplices were Ira Richard Godfrey of Cleveland and Charles Harris, 38, of Warren. Harris was shot by Dixon (Ill.) police when he drew a revolver after the trio was stopped for a traffic violation. Godfrey now is serving a 25-year term for the same robbery.

It is expected Maras will receive the same penalty, Brokaw said. Maras escaped from the Freeport (Ill.) jail while he was being held for the armed robbery in Davenport.

Armed robbery in Ohio carries a 10-to 25-year sentence. Maras' brother, James Maras, 20, of Warren, who was convicted by a jury, now is serving such a sentence at the Ohio State Penitentiary.

James Maras has an appeal pending before the Ohio Supreme Court to set aside his conviction, claiming mistaken identity.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is a good-looking fellow, 23. He has a fine position and should amount to something someday. Chuck has dated many girls in the last five years but he never was serious until now.

Along came this little snip who is determined to get him by hook or by crook. The big problem is the hours he keeps. Every Saturday night he is out until 4 a.m., then he has to get up early Sunday morning to cart the girl to church. We don't see him until early Monday morning.

The snip has such a stranglehold on Chuck it has made me dislike her intensely. I'll never accept her into the family and he knows it.

Do I have a right to feel this way? Please tell me what you think about the awful hours he keeps. I get no help from my husband.—HURT MOTHER.

Dear Mother: A fellow 23 is a grown man. His mother should not be telling him what time to come home.

More important than the hour is your feeling of hostility toward the girl. Your declaration of war has put you out on a limb—and you're going to find that limb sawed off.

Stop playing watch dog and find something to admire about the girl. A mother who attacks her son's choice forces him to defend her. The girl then becomes terribly important to him and sometimes he marries her out of spite.

Guilt Compounded

Dear Ann: My husband and I agreed before we married last July that we would both quit smoking.

I was a heavier smoker than Clyde so I knew it would be more difficult for me. Last January I couldn't stand it so I started to smoke behind his back. I knew if he caught me the war would be on.

Last night when Clyde came home from work he smelled smoke in the house. He said, "Who's been smoking?" I told him the electrician had been in to fix the wall heaters. He asked me when electricians started to wear lipstick. I knew I was sunk.

Now he says the only way I can make things right is to stop smoking. I enjoy smoking and don't see why I should quit. I tried and I can't do it. What is your liberal opinion?—CHIMNEY KATE.

Dear Chimney: Can't never did anything—and it never will. My "liberal" opinion is that a woman who agreed to quit smoking should have stayed off the weed or told her husband she was welshing on her agreement. Sneaking puffs behind his back put you at an 11-year-old level and lying about it to cover up compounded the felony.

Sure Solution

Dear Ann: This may seem like a small problem to you but it is causing me sleepless nights. I recently divorced a man after three years of trying in vain to get him to grow up. I won't go into detail because he is no longer a problem.

I'm writing about my bed sheets and pillow cases. They keep coming back from the laundry with my old initials stamped in indelible ink. True, the initials are in the corners but I know they're there and it has a bad effect on me. Do you know of anything that will remove these marks?—CODDY.

Dear Coddy: A scissors.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I repair loosened asphalt roof shingles?

A. Glue these back into place by daubing some roofing cement beneath them and pressing back where they belong. If a shingle is torn, cut a new one to fit, or nail the pieces into place. Goo up the nailheads with some of your cement.

Q. ow can I avoid irritation of the skin caused by flannel garments?

A. Flannels will not irritate the most sensitive skin if they are pressed with a slightly warm iron on the wrong side after they are thoroughly dry.

Q. How can I prevent chapped hands when hanging out clothes on a cold day?

A. Rub a little cornstarch on the hands, and this will keep them from chapping.

County Board Reorganizes

BEAVER — The Beaver County Board of Education reorganized Wednesday evening and Mitchell Thomas of Monaca, president, and Robert Hannigan of Freedom, vice president, were re-elected.

The third Wednesday of each month was set for meetings.

In keeping with a resolution of the 1950 directors' convention, Thomas named Milton Eger of Hopewell Township as chairman of a committee to study the possibility of a proposal for services to the gifted.

Serving with Eger will be Thaddeus Nawrocki of Ambridge and Leslie B. Roach of Midland, who is a member of the Midland board, and Robert Bedison of Beaver Falls. They will report to the 1960 convention.

Approval was given for $27,488 for handicap classes during December. The county, which has money for such classes, needs personnel to teach them, including speech correction.

The six letters of the alphabet most frequently used are E, T, I, A, S, and O.

Study To Start Early In 1961 On Curriculums

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A study of Ohio high school curriculums, proposed by the State Education Department last summer, is scheduled to start early in 1961.

It originally was intended to answer a question heard often after the Russian satellite successes: What courses — particularly in the fields of science and mathematics—are Ohio high school students pursuing?

Now, says Robert P. Beynon, department research director, the scope may be broadened to seek answers to such questions as: How many Ohio schools are teaching Russian?

Beynon said department officials probably will confer the week of Jan. 8 with curriculum planners from Ohio's three types of school districts and with Dr. Martha King of Ohio State University's School of Education.

The research director said this group will help plan the research project. Other members are Asst. Supt. Cecil Gabler of Marion City schools, curriculum coordinator Robert Boyd of Franklin County schools, and Asst. Supt. Harold Armstrong of the Worthington exempted village district schools.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A study of Ohio high school curriculums, proposed by the State Education Department last summer, is scheduled to start early in 1961.

It originally was intended to answer a question heard often after the Russian satellite successes: What courses — particularly in the fields of science and mathematics—are Ohio high school students pursuing?

Now, says Robert P. Beynon, department research director, the scope may be broadened to seek answers to such questions as: How many Ohio schools are teaching Russian?

Beynon said department officials probably will confer the week of Jan. 8 with curriculum planners from Ohio's three types of school districts and with Dr. Martha King of Ohio State University's School of Education.

The research director said this group will help plan the research project. Other members are Asst. Supt. Cecil Gabler of Marion City schools, curriculum coordinator Robert Boyd of Franklin County schools, and Asst. Supt. Harold Armstrong of the Worthington exempted village district schools.

Rome Getting Musical, Dramatic Attention

County Board Reorganizes

BEAVER — The Beaver County Board of Education reorganized Wednesday evening and Mitchell Thomas of Monaca, president, and Robert Hannigan of Freedom, vice president, were re-elected.

The third Wednesday of each month was set for meetings.

In keeping with a resolution of the 1950 directors' convention, Thomas named Milton Eger of Hopewell Township as chairman of a committee to study the possibility of a proposal for services to the gifted.

Serving with Eger will be Thaddeus Nawrocki of Ambridge and Leslie B. Roach of Midland, who is a member of the Midland board, and Robert Bedison of Beaver Falls. They will report to the 1960 convention.

Approval was given for $27,488 for handicap classes during December. The county, which has money for such classes, needs personnel to teach them, including speech correction.

The six letters of the alphabet most frequently used are E, T, I, A, S, and O.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Wellsville, Beavers Get Together . . .

Beaver Local and Wellsville have settled their differences peacefully and are back together again on the 1961 football schedule. The game is set for Nov. 4.

Things also will be "brighter" at Beaver Local in another way. Not only is Wellsville back, but the school athletic association is purchasing new lights. They should be up by the start of next season.

Jack Frontone, athletic director at Beaver Local, said the school will play its home games on Saturday night. By playing Saturday night, Beaver Local will eliminate conflicting dates with other area schools which play most of their games on Friday.

In addition to getting the Tigers back on the football card, the two schools are talking about meeting in basketball next season.

WITH BEAVER Local coming into the fold of the schools which play night football, Salineville, United and Fairfield - Waterford are the only ones without lights.

A Letter To Santa . . .

WHAT WILL Santa Claus bring the district coaches this season? If they were to get together and write a letter, we might find some of the following requests.

As a group, the football coaches in Ohio would like Santa to leave a new plan for selecting All-Star teams and take the present plan back to the North Pole with him.

LOU VENDITTI — We will give you three guesses as to what the East Liverpool football mentor would have in his letter. You are probably right the first time. A three-year contract at Canton McKinley?

—:—

JIM HARRIS — Two or three pairs of stilts to issue his small bunch of cagers so they can look opponents in the eye and a few more minutes in a basketball game. The Potters were on their way at Alliance before the clock stopped.

—:—

KEN WOODS — The Wellsville coach may not get anything because Santa was so good this year. His stocking was filled to the brim with victories and we think Ken will be satisfied with the same kind of season in 1961.

—:—

JACK McDEVITT — Probably two victories over East Liverpool. And if Santa has an extra sectional championship in his bag, he might toss it Jack's way.

—:—

JOHN ROBISON — A winning season for the first time in several years would be very much appreciated by the Newell coach.

—:—

—:—

DOM AMEDEO — A truck load of beefsteak to fatten up his small Chester football team which will be returning next season.

—:—

MAX TUTTLE — A lot of patience this season would be a fine gift for the Panther basketball coach. His team is young, but in the next two years these youngsters are going to make it rough on somebody.

—:—

HANK KUZMA — If Santa has a Section 8 championship wrapped up, we're sure it would be among Kuzma's requests, especially in his first year at Midland.

—:—

CHARLIE POLCE — Few losses in 1961 is the order of the Midland High football coach. Santa wasn't very good to him this past season.

—:—

JACK O'ROURKE — Another Ron McLaughlin.

—:—

—:—

Midland, ELHS Meet In Tourney . . .

IT WILL be two district rivals—East Liverpool and Midland — meeting in the first holiday tournament here at Memorial Auditorium Dec. 29-30.

It was announced earlier that East Liverpool would play Massillon, but that has been changed.

In the opener on Dec. 29, Marietta and Massillon clash, with the Potters and Leopards going at it in the second game. The two winners play Dec. 30 for the championship, while the losers are billed in a consolation game.

Both Massillon and Marietta will be staying overnight here at the Travelers Hotel.

SPEAKING of holiday tournaments, a pretty good one has been lined up at Canton and we plan to see the opening night.

The first Canton Collegiate Invitational tourney will have Ohio University, Wittenberg, Colgate and the University of South Dakota in the two-day affair Dec. 28-29.

Tickets may be ordered by sending a check or money order to the Junior League of Canton, 1717 Market Ave., N. Canton 4, Ohio. All seats at Canton Fieldhouse are reserved at $2 and $2.50.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

REMEMBER Walt Mangham of New Castle, the jumping-jack, who impressed fans here in the Junior Tournament five years ago. He is playing with the Denver Truckers in the National Industrial Basketball League and doing a good job.

The former Marquette star scored 32 points against Akron Goodyear the other night.

WE RECEIVED a Christmas card from Earl Biederman, who had such good teams at Toronto. He is at Mentor now and a note on his card said "had a terrible year this past season hope to be better next year."

From what we heard, this was a rebuilding season for him, with his know-how Mentor should be on the winning side next year.

Potters Open Before Home Fans Tonight

Basketball wars break out at 12 different points around the district tonight and the East Liverpool Potters open their home season against Warren.

Tonight's action at Memorial Auditorium will get under way at 7 with a reserve game. The varsity team will open about 8:30.

Kenny Cunningham, East Liverpool's all-time scorer, will attempt to keep up his fast point pace. The 6-foot senior netted 33 points in the Potters' opener at Alliance last Saturday night to show he hasn't lost his fine shooting, although he has been slowed by a bruised leg muscle.

Cunningham will be one of the five starters, with Kenny Miller, Mike Geon, Jack Deshler and Ed Prentice expected to fill the other four spots.

Warren comes here with an inexperienced team and a 1-1 record. The Presidents dropped their last start to Newton Falls after opening the season with a victory over Champion.

Newell is about the only local team traveling any distance tonight, the Vikings going to Cameron in quest of their second victory in three games.

12 Games On Tap In Heavy Card For District

Frontone said Barnhart has "water on the knee" and may not play tonight. He averages between 15 and 20 points a game and would be a big loss to the Beavers.

A game that will go a long way in deciding the powerhouse in Jefferson County finds Stanton Local facing Brilliant at Irondale. Big Don "Wilt" Spires will attempt to keep up his high scoring pace.

One of the district's unbeaten teams — Fairfield-Waterford — shoots for its fourth straight against United. Fairfield will have the advantage of the home court.

Salineville, after recording its first victory Tuesday, eyes No. 2 at Augusta, while South Side might step in over its head at Beaver.

Lisbon, without a victory in two starts, faces Carrollton, while two Tri-County League battles find Leetonia at Poland and Louisville at Columbiana.

Four games are set Saturday. Newell visits Farmington, Southeast is at United, Lisbon meets East Palestine and Fairfield-Waterford opposes Leetonia.

Chisox, Braves, Reds Big Deal Completed

3 Front-Line Pitching Aces Are Involved

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, Milwaukee Braves and Cincinnati Reds have completed the biggest interleague trade of the season in deals involving three front-line pitchers and two infielders.

In midnight telephone negotiations, 24 hours before tonight's interleague trading deadline, the clubs made these switches:

1. The Braves sent hurlers Juan Pizarro and Joey Jay to the Reds for infielder Roy McMillan and a minor league player to be named later.

2. The Reds kept Jay and sent pitcher Cal McLish and Pizarro to the White Sox for third baseman Gene Freese.

Officials of all three clubs agreed that each team had been improved in the deals.

"I hate to give up McMillan, a fine ball player and a gentleman, but Freese will give us run production, and Jay will help our pitching staff," said Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Reds in Cincinnati.

President Bill Veeck of the White Sox blamed pitching mainly for losing the 1960 pennant and said that "the addition of McLish and Pizarro will give the staff a boost."

At Milwaukee, Braves Gen. Manager John McHale said his club now will have the best infield in the National League with McMillan at short, Ed Mathews at third, Frank Bolling at second and Joe Adcock at first. Billy Martin will be a reserve infielder.

McLish, 35, a right-hander, had a 4-14 record for the Reds last season after a sensational 19-8 mark at Cleveland in 1959.

Pizarro, 23, a southpaw, was 6-7 for the Braves with a 4.54 earned-run average and right-hander Jay, 25, was 9-8 with 3.29.

McMillan, 30, batted .236 for the Reds, including 10 homers and 42 runs batted in.

Freese, who will be 27 next month, drove in 79 runs for the Sox and had 17 homers. He batted .273. He came to the Sox last season from Philadelphia in exchange for outfielder Johnny Callison.

Earlier Thursday, the Philadelphia Phillies traded pitcher Gene Conley to the Boston Red Sox for another right-hander, Frank Sullivan. Conley had an 8-14 record with the Phils last season. Sullivan was 6-16 with the Red Sox.

Vern Smith and Duane Lacey paced Currans' with 14 points each, accounting for 28 of the 40 markers. Shilling and Hanson scored the lone field goals for McNutt's.

Two small guys, John Higgins and Randy Stover, led Hune Co.'s uphill battle with seven points apiece, with all of Higgins' coming in the second half. Chuck Winters, Larry Marshall and Vaughn had six points each for the losers.

First National Bank flashed a good working outfit which was paced by Birbeck's six markers. Phil Fuhrer dropped in five for Coca-Cola.

In the Dawson's victory, Mike Goodballet tallied eight points and Jerry Pillar six to lead the way. Len Walker and Cowdry had three each for Potters Bank.

Maris Beats Mantle For AL Slugging Title

The records, released today, give Maris a .581 slugging percentage and his first title in that department. He had 290 total bases on 77 singles, 18 doubles, seven triples and 39 homers.

Brown Named Big 10's Most Valuable Player

CHICAGO (AP)—All - America guard Tom Brown of Rose Bowl-bound Minnesota has been named the Big Ten's most valuable football player of the 1960 season.

Brown, a 243-pounder who won the Football Writers of America Outland Award as the season's outstanding tackle or guard, dominated the most valuable poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune.

He will receive the Tribune's silver football, annually awarded for 37 years.

Brown received a vote for first or second place by 15 of the 23 men voting. They included the 10 conference football coaches; 10 veteran officials, Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson, Tribune sports editor Wilfrid Smith and Tribune sports columnist David Condon.

Second in the balloting was Tom Matte, Ohio State quarterback. Other top candidates were quarterback Bernie Allen of Purdue, end Earl Faison of Indiana and fullback Mike Stock of Northwestern.

Others nominated, all by their respective squads, were tackle Joe Rutgens, Illinois; halfback Bernie Wyatt, Iowa; halfback Dennis Fitzgerlad, Michigan; quarterback Tom Wilson, Michigan State, and fullback Tom Wiesner, Wisconsin.

Bad Knee To Shelve Champion Shot Putter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shot putter Bill Nieder, the world record holder and Olympic champion, must retire from the sport because of an ailing knee.

Nieder said Thursday that doctors at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he is stationed as an Army lieutenant, told him continuation of shot putting might result in a permanently stiff right knee.

The 6-3¾ athlete suffered his knee injury originally in 1954 while playing football at the University of Kansas. He re-injured it last spring while shot putting.

New Ticket Sales High

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have passed the $2 million mark in advance ticket sales —a new high for the club for this time of the year. Total advance sales by opening day last season was $1.3 million.

2 Major College Tournaments On

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two major college basketball tournaments will begin tonight as a prelude to the heavy holiday bowl festivities, with the first round of the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh and the Birmingham (Ala.) Classic.

Colgate brings its 5-0 record against Pittsburgh (1-3), while unbeaten Tennessee (4-0) takes on Duquesne (4-1) in the Steel Bowl. At Birmingham, either Baylor or Alabama will end a losing streak as they meet in one game, while unbeaten Auburn (3-0) and Virginia Tech (2-0) tangle in the other game of the Classic. Baylor and Alabama have lost their first four games this season.

The firing was rather light Thursday night, with a few exceptions such as Wichita's 83-64 victory over Washington State and Duke's 75-58 triumph over Clemson in an Atlantic Coast Conference contest.

Duke, which won the Birmingham Classic a year ago over Navy, ran up a 20-point lead several times in the second half against Clemson. Duke ranked No. 8 in The Associated Press poll, will do its holiday playing in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 29-31.

Niagara University solved John Carroll's zone defense in the first half, then went on to remain undefeated by winning their third straight, 84-54.

Western Kentucky, beaten only by Louisville in the Blue Gras tournament finals last week, made its record 6-1 by downing Morehead (Ky.) 83-77 to take the Ohio Valley Conference lead. Charlie Osborne scored 22 points for Western Kentucky, and Ed Noe had 23 for the losers.

Memphis State remained undefeated by breaking a 69-all tie in the last five minutes to defeat Brigham Young 75-72 for its fourth straight win. Wayne Yates scored 22 points and Frank Snyder for Memphis, while BYU's Bruce Barton hit 21.

Boston College's 5-game unsullied string came to an abrupt end as Brown pulled a 76-70 upset, with Forrest Broman pacing the winners on 24 points.

In the Bluebonnet bowl doubleheader at Houston, Dave Miller's long corner shot in the last two seconds of overtime produced a 60-58 Oklahoma State victory over Texas A&M. It was State's fourth victory against one loss.

Princeton and Rutgers were tied 86-86 after regulation time, but Tom Adams' layup with seven seconds to go in overtime brought the Tigers a 94-92 victory. It was Princeton's 14th straight victory over Rutgers since the 1953-54 season.

The Citadel made its record 4-1 by defeating Loyola of New Orleans, 86-78, and Xavier of Cincinnati beat Loyola of Los Angeles 75-62. Centenary easily defeated the Rice Owls, 78-63.

Get-Tough Policy Paying Dividends As Celtics Win

The Celtics, defending National Basketball Association champions, had lost two in a row and five of seven when Auerbach called a club meeting and laid down the law.

Then, before Thursday night's meeting with Syracuse, he called another closed door session with the team.

"We have been hustling in spurts, but not all the way," snapped Auerbach. "That will be changed from now on."

Result: The hard-running Celtics put together a 37-point burst in the third period that overcame a Syracuse halftime lead and pointed Boston toward a 115-105 victory.

The decision moved the Celtics to within a half game of Eastern Division leader Philadelphia.

Wellsville, Beavers Get Together . . .

Beaver Local and Wellsville have settled their differences peacefully and are back together again on the 1961 football schedule. The game is set for Nov. 4.

Things also will be "brighter" at Beaver Local in another way. Not only is Wellsville back, but the school athletic association is purchasing new lights. They should be up by the start of next season.

Jack Frontone, athletic director at Beaver Local, said the school will play its home games on Saturday night. By playing Saturday night, Beaver Local will eliminate conflicting dates with other area schools which play most of their games on Friday.

In addition to getting the Tigers back on the football card, the two schools are talking about meeting in basketball next season.

WITH BEAVER Local coming into the fold of the schools which play night football, Salineville, United and Fairfield - Waterford are the only ones without lights.

A Letter To Santa . . .

WHAT WILL Santa Claus bring the district coaches this season? If they were to get together and write a letter, we might find some of the following requests.

As a group, the football coaches in Ohio would like Santa to leave a new plan for selecting All-Star teams and take the present plan back to the North Pole with him.

LOU VENDITTI — We will give you three guesses as to what the East Liverpool football mentor would have in his letter. You are probably right the first time. A three-year contract at Canton McKinley?

—:—

JIM HARRIS — Two or three pairs of stilts to issue his small bunch of cagers so they can look opponents in the eye and a few more minutes in a basketball game. The Potters were on their way at Alliance before the clock stopped.

—:—

KEN WOODS — The Wellsville coach may not get anything because Santa was so good this year. His stocking was filled to the brim with victories and we think Ken will be satisfied with the same kind of season in 1961.

—:—

JACK McDEVITT — Probably two victories over East Liverpool. And if Santa has an extra sectional championship in his bag, he might toss it Jack's way.

—:—

JOHN ROBISON — A winning season for the first time in several years would be very much appreciated by the Newell coach.

—:—

—:—

DOM AMEDEO — A truck load of beefsteak to fatten up his small Chester football team which will be returning next season.

—:—

MAX TUTTLE — A lot of patience this season would be a fine gift for the Panther basketball coach. His team is young, but in the next two years these youngsters are going to make it rough on somebody.

—:—

HANK KUZMA — If Santa has a Section 8 championship wrapped up, we're sure it would be among Kuzma's requests, especially in his first year at Midland.

—:—

CHARLIE POLCE — Few losses in 1961 is the order of the Midland High football coach. Santa wasn't very good to him this past season.

—:—

JACK O'ROURKE — Another Ron McLaughlin.

—:—

—:—

Midland, ELHS Meet In Tourney . . .

IT WILL be two district rivals—East Liverpool and Midland — meeting in the first holiday tournament here at Memorial Auditorium Dec. 29-30.

It was announced earlier that East Liverpool would play Massillon, but that has been changed.

In the opener on Dec. 29, Marietta and Massillon clash, with the Potters and Leopards going at it in the second game. The two winners play Dec. 30 for the championship, while the losers are billed in a consolation game.

Both Massillon and Marietta will be staying overnight here at the Travelers Hotel.

SPEAKING of holiday tournaments, a pretty good one has been lined up at Canton and we plan to see the opening night.

The first Canton Collegiate Invitational tourney will have Ohio University, Wittenberg, Colgate and the University of South Dakota in the two-day affair Dec. 28-29.

Tickets may be ordered by sending a check or money order to the Junior League of Canton, 1717 Market Ave., N. Canton 4, Ohio. All seats at Canton Fieldhouse are reserved at $2 and $2.50.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

REMEMBER Walt Mangham of New Castle, the jumping-jack, who impressed fans here in the Junior Tournament five years ago. He is playing with the Denver Truckers in the National Industrial Basketball League and doing a good job.

The former Marquette star scored 32 points against Akron Goodyear the other night.

WE RECEIVED a Christmas card from Earl Biederman, who had such good teams at Toronto. He is at Mentor now and a note on his card said "had a terrible year this past season hope to be better next year."

From what we heard, this was a rebuilding season for him, with his know-how Mentor should be on the winning side next year.

ROY and Ray Crews, 6-foot, 3-inch wins have quit the basketball team at Wellsville High School. Both are seniors and played reserve ball last season.

Chisox, Braves, Reds Big Deal Completed

3 Front-Line Pitching Aces Are Involved

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, Milwaukee Braves and Cincinnati Reds have completed the biggest interleague trade of the season in deals involving three front-line pitchers and two infielders.

In midnight telephone negotiations, 24 hours before tonight's interleague trading deadline, the clubs made these switches:

1. The Braves sent hurlers Juan Pizarro and Joey Jay to the Reds for infielder Roy McMillan and a minor league player to be named later.

2. The Reds kept Jay and sent pitcher Cal McLish and Pizarro to the White Sox for third baseman Gene Freese.

Officials of all three clubs agreed that each team had been improved in the deals.

"I hate to give up McMillan, a fine ball player and a gentleman, but Freese will give us run production, and Jay will help our pitching staff," said Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Reds in Cincinnati.

President Bill Veeck of the White Sox blamed pitching mainly for losing the 1960 pennant and said that "the addition of McLish and Pizarro will give the staff a boost."

At Milwaukee, Braves Gen. Manager John McHale said his club now will have the best infield in the National League with McMillan at short, Ed Mathews at third, Frank Bolling at second and Joe Adcock at first. Billy Martin will be a reserve infielder.

McLish, 35, a right-hander, had a 4-14 record for the Reds last season after a sensational 19-8 mark at Cleveland in 1959.

Pizarro, 23, a southpaw, was 6-7 for the Braves with a 4.54 earned-run average and right-hander Jay, 25, was 9-8 with 3.29.

McMillan, 30, batted .236 for the Reds, including 10 homers and 42 runs batted in.

Freese, who will be 27 next month, drove in 79 runs for the Sox and had 17 homers. He batted .273. He came to the Sox last season from Philadelphia in exchange for outfielder Johnny Callison.

Earlier Thursday, the Philadelphia Phillies traded pitcher Gene Conley to the Boston Red Sox for another right-hander, Frank Sullivan. Conley had an 8-14 record with the Phils last season. Sullivan was 6-16 with the Red Sox.

The interleague trading period began Nov. 21.

Bad Knee To Shelve Champion Shot Putter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shot putter Bill Nieder, the world record holder and Olympic champion, must retire from the sport because of an ailing knee.

Nieder said Thursday that doctors at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he is stationed as an Army lieutenant, told him continuation of shot putting might result in a permanently stiff right knee.

The 6-3¾ athlete suffered his knee injury originally in 1954 while playing football at the University of Kansas. He re-injured it last spring while shot putting.

New Ticket Sales High

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have passed the $2 million mark in advance ticket sales —a new high for the club for this time of the year. Total advance sales by opening day last season was $1.3 million.

Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs has hit more than 40 home runs a season the last four years.

FROSTY MAN, FROSTY! Seated at Philadelphia Stadium Thursday was Stan Hochman, trying to keep warm. He shows where Saturday, fans will sit to watch the Liberty Bowl game between Penn State and Oregon. The field has already been cleared and workers promise that all traces of snow will be off the seats before game time. (UPI Telephoto)

Curran's Hune', First National, Dawson's Win Little Potter Tilts

Hune Co., First National Bank, Dawson's and a powerful Curran's team opened up with victories in the Little Potters Seventh Grade League Thursday at the high school gym.

Curran's, last year's champs in the sixth grade league, rolled to a 40-4 win over McNutt's. In the game of the night, Hune Co. nipped Ogilvie's in the last minute, 24-22, coming from far behind, while First National checked Coca-Cola, 16-6, and Dawson's dropped Potters Bank, 17-11.

Vern Smith and Duane Lacey paced Currans' with 14 points each, accounting for 28 of the 40 markers. Shilling and Hanson scored the lone field goals for McNutt's.

Two small guys, John Higgins and Randy Stover, led Hune Co.'s uphill battle with seven points apiece, with all of Higgins' coming in the second half. Chuck Winters, Larry Marshall and Vaughn had six points each for the losers.

First National Bank flashed a good working outfit which was paced by Birbeck's six markers. Phil Fuhrer dropped in five for Coca-Cola.

In the Dawson's victory, Mike Goodballet tallied eight points and Jerry Pillar six to lead the way. Len Walker and Cowdry had three each for Potters Bank.

Maris Beats Mantle For AL Slugging Title

The records, released today, give Maris a .581 slugging percentage and his first title in that department. He had 290 total bases on 77 singles, 18 doubles, seven triples and 39 homers.

2 Major College Tournaments On

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two major college basketball tournaments will begin tonight as a prelude to the heavy holiday bowl festivities, with the first round of the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh and the Birmingham (Ala.) Classic.

Colgate brings its 5-0 record against Pittsburgh (1-3), while unbeaten Tennessee (4-0) takes on Duquesne (4-1) in the Steel Bowl. At Birmingham, either Baylor or Alabama will end a losing streak as they meet in one game, while unbeaten Auburn (3-0) and Virginia Tech (2-0) tangle in the other game of the Classic. Baylor and Alabama have lost their first four games this season.

The firing was rather light Thursday night, with a few exceptions such as Wichita's 83-64 victory over Washington State and Duke's 75-58 triumph over Clemson in an Atlantic Coast Conference contest.

Duke, which won the Birmingham Classic a year ago over Navy, ran up a 20-point lead several times in the second half against Clemson. Duke ranked No. 8 in The Associated Press poll, will do its holiday playing in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 29-31.

Niagara University solved John Carroll's zone defense in the first half, then went on to remain undefeated by winning their third straight, 84-54.

Western Kentucky, beaten only by Louisville in the Blue Gras tournament finals last week, made its record 6-1 by downing Morehead (Ky.) 83-77 to take the Ohio Valley Conference lead. Charlie Osborne scored 22 points for Western Kentucky, and Ed Noe had 23 for the losers.

Memphis State remained undefeated by breaking a 69-all tie in the last five minutes to defeat Brigham Young 75-72 for its fourth straight win. Wayne Yates scored 22 points and Frank Snyder for Memphis, while BYU's Bruce Barton hit 21.

Boston College's 5-game unsullied string came to an abrupt end as Brown pulled a 76-70 upset, with Forrest Broman pacing the winners on 24 points.

In the Bluebonnet bowl doubleheader at Houston, Dave Miller's long corner shot in the last two seconds of overtime produced a 60-58 Oklahoma State victory over Texas A&M. It was State's fourth victory against one loss.

Princeton and Rutgers were tied 86-86 after regulation time, but Tom Adams' layup with seven seconds to go in overtime brought the Tigers a 94-92 victory. It was Princeton's 14th straight victory over Rutgers since the 1953-54 season.

The Citadel made its record 4-1 by defeating Loyola of New Orleans, 86-78, and Xavier of Cincinnati beat Loyola of Los Angeles 75-62. Centenary easily defeated the Rice Owls, 78-63.

Get-Tough Policy Paying Dividends As Celtics Win

The Celtics, defending National Basketball Association champions, had lost two in a row and five of seven when Auerbach called a club meeting and laid down the law.

Then, before Thursday night's meeting with Syracuse, he called another closed door session with the team.

"We have been hustling in spurts, but not all the way," snapped Auerbach. "That will be changed from now on."

Result: The hard-running Celtics put together a 37-point burst in the third period that overcame a Syracuse halftime lead and pointed Boston toward a 115-105 victory.

The decision moved the Celtics to within a half game of Eastern Division leader Philadelphia.

Green Bay Shoots For Western Division Title Saturday

Win Over Los Angeles Would Wrap Up Crown

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers Saturday shoot for the Western Division title and then for the National Football League championship — honors they last captured in the distant year of 1944.

Halfback Paul Hornung and his Packer mates can haul down the division crown with a victory or even a tie. A loss will throw the loop into playoffs involving the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers and the Detroit Lions.

The Philadelphia Eagles already have won the Eastern Conference title.

The game will be televised nationally via CBS, starting at 1:35 p.m. PST.

Ram hopes may already have been wrecked if all their injured players are as wounded as the club claims.

Coach Bob Waterfield leads off with quarterback Bill Wade, whose 66-yard touchdown run was enough to beat the Baltimore Colts last Sunday, 10-3.

Green Bay has a sound team, which was not true when the Rams upset them last month in the final minute, 33-31. Both Hornung and fullback Jim Taylor were hampered that afternoon by injuries.

Browns Look In Top Shape For New York

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns should be in better physical condition Sunday than they were the last time they met the New York Giants.

When the Giants beat the Browns 17-13 here Nov. 6, Walter Michaels, Cleveland's defensive signal caller, was out because of a heel injury.

Michaels now is in good condition, as is Ray Renfro, the fleet halfback and pass receiver who was hampered earlier by a knee injury.

In Brown's opinion, the Giants have the strongest four men up front on defense of any team in professional football.

"We have to handle those fellows well enough so we can get our plays off," he said Thursday night. Brown doubted that Jim Katcavage's injury has weakened the Giants seriously, since the Giants have a strong replacement in Tom Scott.

The coach said he doesn't think the phychological effect of six straight losses to New York will influence the outcome Sunday.

"Once that whistle blows and you start playing, the only thing the players on either team will be thinking about is this one particular game," Brown remarked. "They won't be thinking about something that happened two years ago, a year back or last month."

Blaik's New Book Takes You Around West Point

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Some people read books to bring on slumber, others for knowledge or enjoyment. If you are one of the former it might be well to pass up the Red Blaik story "You Have to Pay the Price" (Holt, Rinehart and Winston).

This autobiography by Earl H. Blaik, the former football coach, keeps you awake. It is so down to earth that it is truly exciting. It takes the reader on what amounts to a guided tour of West Point.

For a man who became a head coach late in life — he was 37 — Col. Blaik in his 25 years as a coach — seven at Dartmouth and 18 at Army — has left a fine mark on football.

To know him for one football season was to know him forever. He built character but he also built football teams that won. He played football at Miami, Ohio. One of his teammates was Ed Sauer. Twenty-seven years later Ed's on, John Sauer, starred for the colonel at the U. S. Military Academy. And after graduation, young John assisted his coach.

Red Blaik came to know Gen. Douglas MacArthur when the latter was superintendent at the Academy. They still are the closest of friends. It was for a friend that Blaik put aside football after the 1958 season. Red is now a vice president of Avco. The chairman of the board is Victor Emanuel, one of Red's boyhood pals from Toledo.

Blaik's Army teams won 121, lost 33 and played 10 ties. His teams were 45-15-4 at Dartmouth. Six of his West Point teams were unbeaten.

Only in one season did he have a loser at Army. That was due to the cribbing scandal which cost West Point a temporary loss in prestige and 37 football players.

"Instead of a quick, quiet, and fair resolution of the problem," writes Blaik, "the Korean War was temporarily reduced to second position on the front pages of America. On Aug. 3, 1951, the news was released that 90 cadets were being dismissed from West Point for an infraction of the cadet code of honor. It was later revealed that the 90 included 60 varsity athletes, 37 of them members of the football squad."

Red Blaik objected to what he regarded as the inept, callous and evasive manner in which people in authority handled a complex problem. He considered leaving the academy, but Gen. MacArthur persuaded him to remain.

"They have set the academy back 20 years," MacArthur said. "Don't quit under fire."

Blaik fought to get the expelled cadets an honorable discharge. His own son, Bob, a quarterback, was among the cadets involved. Bob is now doing well as Bud Wilkinson's assistant at Oklahoma.

After his 1951 team lost seven of nine games, Red set about rebuilding a team that previously had lost but one game in three seasons. He stayed on until after the 1958 campaign when he came up with the Lonely End formation and an unbeaten team. Then he retired gracefully.

Blaik was held in such high esteem at West Point, and throughout the football world, it's a wonder he ever could retire. He may have left football but football didn't leave the former Army athlete, coach and athletic director. He watches with avid interest the result of every Army game. He was too big a part of West Point athletics to do otherwise.

Accident-Prone Driver Sized Up Like This

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Are you an accident-prone driver? Dr. Donald Schuster, psychologist at the University of Southern California, says a chronic violator has these characteristics:

He is physically and psychologically active.

He "drives" himself to get ahead.

Despite aggressiveness, he probably relies on others.

He is unwilling to conform culturally.

He lacks aesthetic appreciation.

He is willing to take chances.

Schuster has tested 2,000 drivers since 1958, he said in a statement Thursday.

East was in front, 25-11, at halftime and posted a 33-22 margin after three periods.

McComas hooped 15 points while Jennings dropped in 13. Bob Mercer added 10 points to the attack.

Crimson Tide Rates 1-Point Edge In Bowl

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul (Bear) Bryant says his Alabama Crimson Tide should be a touchdown underdog for Saturday's Bluebonnet Bowl game with the Texas Longhorns.

Bryant and his 47-man squad arrived Thursday to find themselves one-point favorites, the same point spread posted by oddsmakers the day the two teams were selected for the second annual Bluebonnet classic.

Bryant said, "I think Texas has more speed then we do. I think they are a little better—not a whole lot but about a touchdown."

Bryant was reminded he made a similar statement before Alabama ended its regular season with a 3-0 victory over Auburn.

"I sure did, but that was the greatest game I've ever seen as far as team effort is concerned," he replied.

Alabama finished with an 8-1-1 record, losing only to Tennessee after being tied 6-6 by Tulane.

Coroner Rules Death Of Hunter Accidental

LISBON — The death of Harold Bruce Little, 23, of Leetonia R. D., killed when shot by a hunting companion Wednesday afternoon south of Leetonia, was ruled accidental Thursday by Columbiana County Coroner William Kolozsi of Salem.

Little was on a brush pile flushing out game when his cousin, Charles Phillips, 24, of Leetonia R. D., facing away from the pile, heard a whir and turned quickly and fired, the blast hitting Mr. Little in the back of the head.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Woods Funeral Home at Leetonia.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants accounted for the most hits in the National League last season. He got 190.

Xavier Downs Loyola, 75-62, On Ohio Scene

By The Associated Press

Xavier handed Loyola of Los Angeles its second loss in three nights in Cincinnati as the Musketeers broke away from the Lions after seven minutes of play and rolled to a 75-62 victory.

The game was a highlight of Thursday's Ohio college basketball games. Only one conference game was played, Oberlin taking its first Ohio Conference victory of the season 78-64 over Hiram.

Loyola had lost to the University of Cincinnati 74-53 Tuesday, and didn't have any better luck Thursday as Jack Thobe, scoring 20 defeats.

Four Oberlin starters scored in double figures as the Yeomen changed a first-half nip-and-tuck battle into a decisive win. Merrill Shanks led the way with 21 points, while freshman Terry Brown paced the Terriers with 19.

Denison (3-3) used the free throw line to good advantage, scoring 13 of its last 15 points on charity tosses, to deal Ohio Northern its first loss of the year 83-78. Freshman Bruce McClintock sparked the Big Red sharpshooting with 25 markers, while Lonnie Norris of Northern had 18.

Rich Thomas, racking up 18 points, led Wooster to a 77-64 victory over Grove City (Pa.) The Scots were down 44-43 with five minutes gone in the second half, but Thomas' field goal put Wooster ahead for good.

Mount Union squeaked past West Liberty (W.Va.) 63-61 when Dave Brubaker hit a field goal and two free throws with 59 seconds remaining. West Liberty scored two points a few seconds later, then the Ohio team ran out the clock.

Beaver Local Bows, 46-16, To Westgate

Deering's six points topped Beaver Local.

Soccer Players Vote Strike In Wage Fight

LONDON (AP) — Representatives of the Professional Footballers' Association—the players' union—have voted overwhelmingly to strike Jan. 14 unless they get more pay and better contracts.

The delegates, representing 2,700 English soccer players, voted 690-18 to strike. The players are asking a guaranteed minimum wage of $42 a week and abolition of the maximum wage of $56 a week among other things.

The current minimum is $22.40 a week which the club officials have offered to increase without being specific.

Giants, Browns To Battle For Second Place In NFL

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants have THAT look again, and it can mean only one thing—the Cleveland Browns are coming to town.

The Browns (7-3-1) and Giants (6-3-2) meet in Yankee Stadium before a sellout crowd Sunday to battle for second place in the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

"If we were tied for last place, my boys would still go all out," Coach Jim Lee Howell said today. "They have a very special feeling about beating the Browns."

That they have. They've beaten Coach Paul Brown's team in their last six meetings, the most recent a 17-13 drubbing last month in Cleveland. The last time New York lost to the Browns was a 34-28 decision in the last meeting of the 1957 season.

But Howell, who will be coaching his last game for the Giants unless the team gets in the NFL's runnerup bowl Jan. 7 in Miami, isn't sitting on the record.

"They change their defenses," he said. "In fact, our scouts tell us they already have changed them. In recent games they've gone back to one phase of the old Eagle alignment, which moves the linebacker inside the ends."

In last month's meeting, the Giants' defense held Jimmy Brown, Bobby Mitchell & Co., then leading the NFL rushing department, to only six yards. They stopped Milt Plum's passing attack with only 89 yards. New York's offense romped for 209 yards running and 105 passing, and both Giant platoons seem bent on improving the results.

"Mitchell and Brown are their big offensive men," Howell said. "We stopped them last time. It was a challenge to our defense because both were up there leading the league in ball carrying. Well, they're back up there so the challenge still exists."

However, the Giants will have to do it without halfback Frank Gifford, defensive end Jim Katcavage and offensive guard Darrell Dess. This injured trio is finished for the year. In addition, center Ray Wietecha is listed as doubtful because of a glandular ailment that has bedded him all week.

Fort Knox Army Post Lists Three Major League Stars

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP) — While many people may worry about the nine million pounds of gold buried here at this bullion bastion the Baltimore Orioles and New York Yankees probably are more concerned about certain young men wearing "U. S." brass buttons.

Ron Hansen, Baltimore shortstop and the American League's rookie of 1960; Steve Barber, Oriole pitcher who turned in a 10-7 freshman record, and Bill Stafford, the Yankee rookie who impressed in the World Series, are privates here under the six months' Reserve Forces Act.

They are big cogs in the hopes of the two teams who could again battle for the American League pennant in 1961.

The three crew cuts don't seem to mind Army life one bit even, though they must live on the post during eight weeks of basic training.

Barber, 21, from Silver Springs, Md., enlisted before the others and is due out April 8. Hansen and Stafford, both 22 and in the same battalion, are due for release April 15. Hansen is from Albany, Calif., and Stafford from Athens, N. Y.

This armored division training camp of 30,000-odd acres has a number of sports-minded people at the post. One is special services officer Maj. Al Telese, a former New York University athlete from Jackson Heights, N. Y. He has been in the Army 18 years.

The other is Irv Jeffries, the civilian athletic consultant who played 175 big league games as an infielder with the White Sox and Phils.

"There will be no special favors even though they are big leagures," says Maj. Telese. "They will be treated as any other soldiers. Evenings they can compete in any sport in battalion play. Saturdays and Sundays they can golf, but they must live on the post. Their physical fitness includes calisthenics. They even do KP."

Jeffries coaches the Fort Knox Tankers baseball team and would love to have them on the squad. But the best he can do is have them work out with his squad in one of three field houses in Kentucky's fourth largest city. The Tankers begin practice in March.

Hansen, Barber and Stafford like the thought of early practice. Upon being discharged they may be forced to jump right into the American League baseball race.

That's when they'll hear rival players ask:

"Did you get any?"

"Yes, but it wasn't gold," Barber will tell them. "It was $71 every month."

It's quite a change from the estimated $7,000 these rookies earned for their first big league season.

Liberty Bowl Teams Due $50,000-$60,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bud Dudley, president of the Liberty Bowl which will be held in Philadelphia Stadium Saturday, says opponents Penn State and Oregon should each take home between $50,000 and $60,000.

Dudley said some 17,000 tickets had been sold as of Thursday night. He said he expects a crowd of between 20,000 and 25,000 for the nationally televised game. NBC is paying $100,000 for the TV rights.

Last year more than 31,000 persons attended the first Liberty Bowl game. Penn State and Alabama each got $98,000, according to Dudley.

U.S. Davis Cup Team Still Getting Ribbed

The editorial page cartoon in the Sydney Mirror today showed a bespectacled American captain debarking at the airport with four sour individuals holding smashed rackets.

"Meet our 1961 team," the captain is telling a newsman. "Chuck, Hurl, Fling and Pelt."

Green Bay Shoots For Western Division Title Saturday

Win Over Los Angeles Would Wrap Up Crown

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers Saturday shoot for the Western Division title and then for the National Football League championship — honors they last captured in the distant year of 1944.

Halfback Paul Hornung and his Packer mates can haul down the division crown with a victory or even a tie. A loss will throw the loop into playoffs involving the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers and the Detroit Lions.

The Philadelphia Eagles already have won the Eastern Conference title.

The game will be televised nationally via CBS, starting at 1:35 p.m. PST.

Ram hopes may already have been wrecked if all their injured players are as wounded as the club claims.

Green Bay has a sound team, which was not true when the Rams upset them last month in the final minute, 33-31. Both Hornung and fullback Jim Taylor were hampered that afternoon by injuries.

Browns Look In Top Shape For New York

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns should be in better physical condition Sunday than they were the last time they met the New York Giants.

When the Giants beat the Browns 17-13 here Nov. 6, Walter Michaels, Cleveland's defensive signal caller, was out because of a heel injury.

Michaels now is in good condition, as is Ray Renfro, the fleet halfback and pass receiver who was hampered earlier by a knee injury.

In Brown's opinion, the Giants have the strongest four men up front on defense of any team in professional football.

"We have to handle those fellows well enough so we can get our plays off," he said Thursday night. Brown doubted that Jim Katcavage's injury has weakened the Giants seriously, since the Giants have a strong replacement in Tom Scott.

The coach said he doesn't think the phychological effect of six straight losses to New York will influence the outcome Sunday.

"Once that whistle blows and you start playing, the only thing the players on either team will be thinking about is this one particular game," Brown remarked. "They won't be thinking about something that happened two years ago, a year back or last month."

Blaik's New Book Takes You Around West Point

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Some people read books to bring on slumber, others for knowledge or enjoyment. If you are one of the former it might be well to pass up the Red Blaik story "You Have to Pay the Price" (Holt, Rinehart and Winston).

This autobiography by Earl H. Blaik, the former football coach, keeps you awake. It is so down to earth that it is truly exciting. It takes the reader on what amounts to a guided tour of West Point.

For a man who became a head coach late in life — he was 37 — Col. Blaik in his 25 years as a coach — seven at Dartmouth and 18 at Army — has left a fine mark on football.

To know him for one football season was to know him forever. He built character but he also built football teams that won. He played football at Miami, Ohio. One of his teammates was Ed Sauer. Twenty-seven years later Ed's on, John Sauer, starred for the colonel at the U. S. Military Academy. And after graduation, young John assisted his coach.

Red Blaik came to know Gen. Douglas MacArthur when the latter was superintendent at the Academy. They still are the closest of friends. It was for a friend that Blaik put aside football after the 1958 season. Red is now a vice president of Avco. The chairman of the board is Victor Emanuel, one of Red's boyhood pals from Toledo.

Blaik's Army teams won 121, lost 33 and played 10 ties. His teams were 45-15-4 at Dartmouth. Six of his West Point teams were unbeaten.

Only in one season did he have a loser at Army. That was due to the cribbing scandal which cost West Point a temporary loss in prestige and 37 football players.

"Instead of a quick, quiet, and fair resolution of the problem," writes Blaik, "the Korean War was temporarily reduced to second position on the front pages of America. On Aug. 3, 1951, the news was released that 90 cadets were being dismissed from West Point for an infraction of the cadet code of honor. It was later revealed that the 90 included 60 varsity athletes, 37 of them members of the football squad."

Red Blaik objected to what he regarded as the inept, callous and evasive manner in which people in authority handled a complex problem. He considered leaving the academy, but Gen. MacArthur persuaded him to remain.

"They have set the academy back 20 years," MacArthur said. "Don't quit under fire."

Blaik fought to get the expelled cadets an honorable discharge. His own son, Bob, a quarterback, was among the cadets involved. Bob is now doing well as Bud Wilkinson's assistant at Oklahoma.

After his 1951 team lost seven of nine games, Red set about rebuilding a team that previously had lost but one game in three seasons. He stayed on until after the 1958 campaign when he came up with the Lonely End formation and an unbeaten team. Then he retired gracefully.

Blaik was held in such high esteem at West Point, and throughout the football world, it's a wonder he ever could retire. He may have left football but football didn't leave the former Army athlete, coach and athletic director. He watches with avid interest the result of every Army game. He was too big a part of West Point athletics to do otherwise.

Accident-Prone Driver Sized Up Like This

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Are you an accident-prone driver? Dr. Donald Schuster, psychologist at the University of Southern California, says a chronic violator has these characterisstics:

He is physically and psychologically active.

He "drives" himself to get ahead.

Despite aggressiveness, he probably relies on others.

He is unwilling to conform culturally.

He lacks aesthetic appreciation.

He is willing to take chances.

Schuster has tested 2,000 drivers since 1958, he said in a statement Thursday.

Crimson Tide Rates 1-Point Edge In Bowl

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul (Bear) Bryant says his Alabama Crimson Tide should be a touchdown underdog for Saturday's Bluebonnet Bowl game with the Texas Longhorns.

Bryant and his 47-man squad arrived Thursday to find themselves one-point favorites, the same point spread posted by oddsmakers the day the two teams were selected for the second annual Bluebonnet classic.

The Texas team was to fly to Houston after a final workout in Austin, arriving just in time for tonight's bonfire rally honoring the two teams.

Bryant said, "I think Texas has more speed then we do. I think they are a little better—not a whole lot but about a touchdown."

Bryant was reminded he made a similar statement before Alabama ended its regular season with a 3-0 victory over Auburn.

"I sure did, but that was the greatest game I've ever seen as far as team effort is concerned," he replied.

Alabama finished with an 8-1-1 record, losing only to Tennessee after being tied 6-6 by Tulane.

Coroner Rules Death Of Hunter Accidental

LISBON — The death of Harold Bruce Little, 23, of Leetonia R. D., killed when shot by a hunting companion Wednesday afternoon south of Leetonia, was ruled accidental Thursday by Columbiana County Coroner William Kolozsi of Salem.

Little was on a brush pile flushing out game when his cousin, Charles Phillips, 24, of Leetonia R. D., facing away from the pile, heard a whir and turned quickly and fired, the blast hitting Mr. Little in the back of the head.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Woods Funeral Home at Leetonia.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants accounted for the most hits in the National League last season. He got 190.

Xavier Downs Loyola, 75-62, On Ohio Scene

By The Associated Press

Xavier handed Loyola of Los Angeles its second loss in three nights in Cincinnati as the Musketeers broke away from the Lions after seven minutes of play and rolled to a 75-62 victory.

The game was a highlight of Thursday's Ohio college basketball games. Only one conference game was played, Oberlin taking its first Ohio Conference victory of the season 78-64 over Hiram.

Loyola had lost to the University of Cincinnati 74-53 Tuesday, and didn't have any better luck Thursday as Jack Thobe, scoring 20 defeats.

Four Oberlin starters scored in double figures as the Yeomen changed a first-half nip-and-tuck battle into a decisive win. Merrill Shanks led the way with 21 points, while freshman Terry Brown paced the Terriers with 19.

At Cleveland, John Carroll proved no match for powerful Niagara, bowing 84-54 to the unbeaten visitors from Buffalo, N. Y. Carroll (3-3) got a bit of mileage out of a zone defense against its taller foes in the early going but couldn't stay with them.

Denison (3-3) used the free throw line to good advantage, scoring 13 of its last 15 points on charity tosses, to deal Ohio Northern its first loss of the year 83-78. Freshman Bruce McClintock sparked the Big Red sharpshooting with 25 markers, while Lonnie Norris of Northern had 18.

Rich Thomas, racking up 18 points, led Wooster to a 77-64 victory over Grove City (Pa).) The Scots were down 44-43 with five minutes gone in the second half, but Thomas' field goal put Wooster ahead for good.

Mount Union squeaked past West Liberty (W.Va.) 63-61 when Dave Brubaker hit a field goal and two free throws with 59 seconds remaining. West Liberty scored two points a few seconds later, then the Ohio team ran out the clock.

Luigi Fratangeli, apprentice jockey who rode the New Jersey circuit this season, is from Ceccano, Italy. He rode his first winner last May at Garden State Park.

Beaver Local Bows, 46-16, To Westgate

The Wildcats failed to get rolling until the second half, following the same pattern as in their opening victory last week.

Leading 19-8 at halftime, Westgate moved out to a 33-12 lead at the end of three quarters.

Deering's six points topped Beaver Local.

Soccer Players Vote Strike In Wage Fight

LONDON (AP) — Representatives of the Professional Footballers' Association—the players' union—have voted overwhelmingly to strike Jan. 14 unless they get more pay and better contracts.

The delegates, representing 2,700 English soccer players, voted 690-18 to strike. The players are asking a guaranteed minimum wage of $42 a week and abolition of the maximum wage of $56 a week among other things.

The current minimum is $22.40 a week which the club officials have offered to increase without being specific.

2 Salt Lake City Men Get Honolulu Franchise

HONOLULU (AP) — Nick Morgan Jr., president of the Salt Lake City club in the Pacific Coast League, and Walter E. Cosgriff, Salt Lake City banker, have been awarded the Honolulu franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

Dewey Soriano, PCL president, confirmed a report today that the two men, officers in the Salt Lake City Bees, had won the franchise.

Cosgriff, a well known Utah philanthropist and treasurer of the Salt Lake City club, was unable to appear at Thursday's meeting of PCL officers and directors in Honolulu. Morgan was his representative.

Giants, Browns To Battle For Second Place In NFL

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants have THAT look again, and it can mean only one thing—the Cleveland Browns are coming to town.

The Browns (7-3-1) and Giants (6-3-2) meet in Yankee Stadium before a sellout crowd Sunday to battle for second place in the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

But you'd think the title was at stake to watch the Giants.

"If we were tied for last place, my boys would still go all out." Coach Jim Lee Howell said today. "They have a very special feeling about beating the Browns."

That they have. They've beaten Coach Paul Brown's team in their last six meetings, the most recent a 17-13 drubbing last month in Cleveland. The last time New York lost to the Browns was a 34-28 decision in the last meeting of the 1957 season.

But Howell, who will be coaching his last game for the Giants unless the team gets in the NFL's runnerup bowl Jan. 7 in Miami, isn't sitting on the record.

"They change their defenses," he said. "In fact, our scouts tell us they already have changed them. In recent games they've gone back to one phase of the old Eagle alignment, which moves the linebacker inside the ends."

This is designed to cross up the blockers defending quarterback Chuck Conerly and shoot a man through to pressure him when he attempts to pass.

"We've stopped that kind of stuff before," Howell added. "And we'll have something new to show them, too. There's no sense holding back now."

In last month's meeting, the Giants' defense held Jimmy Brown, Bobby Mitchell & Co., then leading the NFL rushing department, to only six yards. TV Atones With Documentaries

Daniel Schorr, the CBS news correspondent, once said to me he thought it would be a good idea for TV to leave the news business to newspapers, if newspapers in turn would leave the business of entertaining to TV.

Hal Humphrey

Apparently there is much less chance of this happening now than when Schorr prescribed it nearly two years ago. I don't know if newspapers generally have moved any deeper into the entertainment side, but certainly TV has pushed much further into the news and information area since then.

Ironically, this move of TV's into more news documentaries (and at prime hours, too) may partially be because of the goading it has received from newspapers.

WHEN TV was caught with its answers showing on those quiz shows, newspapers pointed a finger of shame at the networks for allowing such shoddy doings to take place on a medium responsible to so many millions of Americans. It was just criticism, and the TV sultans knew it.

The sudden surge for more such programs over at ABC caused its news and special events v.p. John Daly to resign. Daly resented the network's buying documentaries (i.e. "Closeup") from outside production agencies, charging that it diluted the editorial direction of the network.

Paradoxically, he still saw no contradiction in a newsman's playing games on TV ("What's My Line?") once a week.

ONE OF ABC's reason for buying "outside" documentaries obviously was to catch up with the richer, bigger NBC and CBS news operations. Instead of slacking off on such programs after the election, NBC particularly went into an even heavier schedule of such fare.

Its new NBC White Paper series, which started last month with "The U2 Affair," pulled one of the highest ratings ever received for a non-entertainment program. Next Tuesday NBC follows it up with a White Paper on the Negro sit-in strikes. Also in the works is one on "The American Press."

When Edward R. Murrow returned from his sabbatical year abread last summer, he was pleasantly surprised to learn that his employer, CBS, had cleared time for a minimum of 26 "CBS Reports" programs. Prior to Murrow's leave - taking, the same network had cut his "See It Now" series down to a "now-and-then" schedule.

IT WOULD BE NICE to think that the networks are developing their news and public affairs departments solely because of a reawakened conscience. I believe this is the major reason.

It's no secret, however, that a good hour-long documentary is cheaper to produce than an hour-long "special" with two or three big-name stars. The "specials" haven't been doing too well, generally.

Sponsors for the news and documentary programs aren't so hard to find now as they once were, either. Many large companies have become enlightened to the fact that a program with Huntley and Brinkley may do more for their "image" than one with Sinatra and Martin—even though it may not sell as many headache remedies.

Some newspapermen consider the TV networks inexperienced and unfit for this splash into the field of news and information. Nonetheless, the splash has been made.

If the networks succeed in whetting the public's rather jaded appetite for what's going on in the world, this can only have a salutary effect on newspapers which consientiously cover the news.

$145,000 Fire Hits Town In West Virginia

HINTON (AP) — A fire of undetermined origin which began suddenly and spread rapidly threatened to erase an entire city block here Thursday.

But the combined forces of the Hinton, Princeton and Beckley fire departments, along with aid from local citizens, averted what could have been a major tragedy.

A building occupied by the Western Auto Co. was destroyed by the fire which apparently began in the basement. Two other buildings were damaged.

The blaze, fed by Christmas layaways, spread so rapidly that only a few tires and a bicycle could be saved. No one was hurt, but one fireman was overcome by smoke.

William Messer, owner of Western Auto, figured his loss at between $75,000 and $80,000. Messer lost his stock, fixtures, records and the day's receipts.

A son of the owner of the building said structure was worth at least $50,000.

The adjacent Willey Hardware and G. C. Murphy Co. stores had mostly water and smoke damage. The operator of the hardware "guessed" his loss at up to $15,000 but the manager of the Murphy establishment declined to estimate his damage.

A retired railroad employe—who said he was watching the fire from his apartment in the Murphy building unaware of his danger — and his 15-year-old son were led to safety by a fireman.

Scene of the blaze was on Temple Street — in the center of Hinton's business district. Some other stores moved out their stocks as a precautionary measure, but the flames never touched them.

Biggest 'Rights' Problem Seen In North's Top Cities

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Chairman John A. Hannah of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission says he is "convinced the most difficult civil rights problem is in the larger cities of the North."

Hannah said he is convinced of this because Northern cities "sweep it under the rug or run" to the suburbs.

"So far," he said, "there hasn't been a willingness to recognize that this is a major problem and something must be done about it." He suggested solution will come when "one more than half" demands it.

Hannah, who also is president of Michigan State University, expressed his views at a news conference after two days of commission hearings in Detroit, where a series of witnesses related incidents of what they termed discrimination against Negroes in housing, employment and other fields.

Weekly Steel Output Rate Receives 'Death Sentence'

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A death sentence has been pronounced again on the weekly steel output rate as a percentage of capacity.

Just how many lives this widely followed indicator of industrial health may prove to have is yet to be seen. But the steel industry has been anxious to get out of the glare of publicity the index casts in troubled times.

The output rate currently is just under 50 per cent of capacity. That is, the mills are producing around 1.4 million tons a week, compared with capacity of 2.8 million.

And the industry thinks the public draws too many conclusions from this: by overlooking the large amount of output in tonnage and in wondering about the build-up in capacity in recent years and when it might be fully used.

The steel capacity rate shares with the weekly auto output estimates the attention of the general public looking for guides as to whether times are likely to be good or bad. Steel men in particular dislike this concentration of interest, especially when times are slack and the future uncertain.

The American Iron Steel Institute tried to drop the index during the 1958 recession when the operating rate also was 50 per cent or lower. But with capacity known, too many persons figured the rate out pretty closely and published it anyway.

This time the institute indicates it won't make its annual January pronouncement on the new capacity figure. The question is: Will outsiders, knowing that capacity changed little in the 1960 compared with recent years, be able to estimate it fairly closely and once again figure the operating rate for themselves?

1. Capacity has grown so in recent years that a 50 per cent rate really turns out as much tonnage now as full operations did at the end of the war.

2. New techniques in steel production turn out more steel per new type mill than do the older ones, robbing capacity of much of its significance.

3. Many of the older mills are on the capacity rolls but are so obsolete they may not be fired up again except for emergencies, such as war.

4. The estimated 1960 tonnage at an average rate of less than 70 per cent for the year is estimated at nearly 100 million tons—an output that would have required 97 per cent of capacity 10 years ago.

Critics of the dropping of the traditional output rating contend:

1. Comparing today's tonnage with former years doesn't allow for the growth in the general economy and its normal needs.

2. The tonnage index the institute now proposes based on average tonnage output in 1957-59 overlooks that this base contained one year of good production, 1957, but also the recession year of 1958, and the strike disrupted year of 1959.

3. The steel industry is unduely sensitive to its showing in periods of slackness and to lack of understanding of its program of building for the future in adding to capacity during the 1950s.

Property Tax Cut

HAMILTON (AP) — Hamilton's property tax rate payable in 1961 has been set at $36.05 on each $1,000 of valuation as compared with $36.38 for 1960. County Auditor A. R. Tilton said the reduction was made possible by a 20-cent drop in state requirements and a reduction of interest needs on outstanding bonds.

Pair Indicted In Violation Of T-H Law

CLEVELAND (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted John J. Felice, a Teamsters Union official, and George S. Carter, former president of the Pilsener Brewing Co., on charges of receiving and giving money in violation of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Also named in the indictment were the brewing company and the City Products Corp., of which Pilsener is a wholly owned subsidiary.

The indictment charges the corporation and Carter, now president of the Leisy Brewing Co., gave Felice $4,500 on April 17, 1956. Felice, president and business manager of Teamsters Local 293, is charged with receiving the money.

The indictment was returned under a section of the Taft-Hartley Act which makes it unlawful for an employer to give money or valuables to an officer or employe of a union which represents or seeks to represent his employes.

Felice was unavailable for comment on the indictment. Carter said he would not make any comment "until I have had a chance to study the charges."

Officers of the City Products Corp. and Pilsener Brewing Co. declined to make any statement when reached at their headquarters in Chicago.

William Finegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland AFL-CIO Federation of Labor; the May Co. here and May Department Stores, Inc., of New York were scheduled for arraignment today on a similar indictment returned last Friday.

The companies were charged with giving and Finegan receiving $12,207 in the period from Jan. 1, 1949 to last Friday.

Lowellville Man Shot To Death In Gangland Killing

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — John Schuler, 42, of Lowellville, was found shot to death Thursday night in what Trumbull County sheriff's deputies said apparently was a gangland killing.

His body was found beside his automobile on old Ohio 82 about a mile and a half east of Vienna. He had been hit by shotgun blasts in the chest, thigh and abdomen, deputies said.

Schuler, described by authorities as a hoodlum who was mixed up in rackets in the Youngstown area, apparently was changing a tire on his car when he was slain, officers said.

The body was found by Paul Landis, who lives nearby. He told deputies he heard what sounded like the backfire of an automobile and then a cry for help. He said he went to investigate and found Schuler's body.

Schuler was injured seriously nearly three yers ago when his car was bombed in Youngstown. He later was charged with possession of explosive when authorities found what they described as a "small arsenal" of dynamite and other explosives in his home. The case was turned over to the Mahoning County grand jury, which failed to return an indictment.

Schuler had filed suit for $350,000 against the American-Croatian Citizens Club of Youngstown for injuries suffered in the bombing, which occurred in the club's parking lot on Jan. 22, 1958. That case is pending.

TV Atones With Documentaries

Daniel Schorr, the CBS news correspondent, once said to me he thought it would be a good idea for TV to leave the news business to newspapers, if newspapers in turn would leave the business of entertaining to TV.

Hal Humphrey

Apparently there is much less chance of this happening now than when Schorr prescribed it nearly two years ago. I don't know if newspapers generally have moved any deeper into the entertainment side, but certainly TV has pushed much further into the news and information area since then.

Ironically, this move of TV's into more news documentaries (and at prime hours, too) may partially be because of the goading it has received from newspapers.

WHEN TV was caught with its answers showing on those quiz shows, newspapers pointed a finger of shame at the networks for allowing such shoddy doings to take place on a medium responsible to so many millions of Americans. It was just criticism, and the TV sultans knew it.

Now, to overcome the cheap carnival image left by the quiz scandal, the networks have decided that the special news documentary and debate are the perfect antidotes.

The sudden surge for more such programs over at ABC caused its news and special events v.p. John Daly to resign. Daly resented the network's buying documentaries (i.e. "Closeup") from outside production agencies, charging that it diluted the editorial direction of the network.

Paradoxically, he still saw no contradiction in a newsman's playing games on TV ("What's My Line?") once a week.

ONE OF ABC's reason for buying "outside" documentaries obviously was to catch up with the richer, bigger NBC and CBS news operations. Instead of slacking off on such programs after the election, NBC particularly went into an even heavier schedule of such fare.

Its new NBC White Paper series, which started last month with "The U2 Affair," pulled one of the highest ratings ever received for a non-entertainment program. Next Tuesday NBC follows it up with a White Paper on the Negro sit-in strikes. Also in the works is one on "The American Press."

When Edward R. Murrow returned from his sabbatical year abread last summer, he was pleasantly surprised to learn that his employer, CBS, had cleared time for a minimum of 26 "CBS Reports" programs. Prior to Murrow's leave - taking, the same network had cut his "See It Now" series down to a "now-and-then" schedule.

IT WOULD BE NICE to think that the networks are developing their news and public affairs departments solely because of a reawakened conscience. I believe this is the major reason.

It's no secret, however, that a good hour-long documentary is cheaper to produce than an hour-long "special" with two or three big-name stars. The "specials" haven't been doing too well, generally.

The discovery that a good documentary can get as good an audience rating as a "special" is certainly one motive for doing documentaries.

Sponsors for the news and documentary programs aren't so hard to find now as they once were, either. Many large companies have become enlightened to the fact that a program with Huntley and Brinkley may do more for their "image" than one with Sinatra and Martin—even though it may not sell as many headache remedies.

Some newspapermen consider the TV networks inexperienced and unfit for this splash into the field of news and information. Nonetheless, the splash has been made.

If the networks succeed in whetting the public's rather jaded appetite for what's going on in the world, this can only have a salutary effect on newspapers which consientiously cover the news.

$145,000 Fire Hits Town In West Virginia

HINTON (AP) — A fire of undetermined origin which began suddenly and spread rapidly threatened to erase an entire city block here Thursday.

But the combined forces of the Hinton, Princeton and Beckley fire departments, along with aid from local citizens, averted what could have been a major tragedy.

A building occupied by the Western Auto Co. was destroyed by the fire which apparently began in the basement. Two other buildings were damaged.

The blaze, fed by Christmas layaways, spread so rapidly that only a few tires and a bicycle could be saved. No one was hurt, but one fireman was overcome by smoke.

William Messer, owner of Western Auto, figured his loss at between $75,000 and $80,000. Messer lost his stock, fixtures, records and the day's receipts.

A son of the owner of the building said structure was worth at least $50,000.

The adjacent Willey Hardware and G. C. Murphy Co. stores had mostly water and smoke damage. The operator of the hardware "guessed" his loss at up to $15,000 but the manager of the Murphy establishment declined to estimate his damage.

A retired railroad employe—who said he was watching the fire from his apartment in the Murphy building unaware of his danger — and his 15-year-old son were led to safety by a fireman.

Scene of the blaze was on Temple Street — in the center of Hinton's business district. Some other stores moved out their stocks as a precautionary measure, but the flames never touched them.

Several families fled from apartments in nearby buildings.

The area was without gas, electric and telephone services for about an hour.

Large billows of black smoke from the burning building attracted a crowd of spectators that Police Chief C. B. Dye estimated at 4,500 at one time. Hinton's population is about 5,200.

Biggest 'Rights' Problem Seen In North's Top Cities

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Chairman John A. Hannah of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission says he is "convinced the most difficult civil rights problem is in the larger cities of the North."

Hannah said he is convinced of this because Northern cities "sweep it under the rug or run" to the suburbs.

"So far," he said, "there hasn't been a willingness to recognize that this is a major problem and something must be done about it." He suggested solution will come when "one more than half" demands it.

Hannah, who also is president of Michigan State University, expressed his views at a news conference after two days of commission hearings in Detroit, where a series of witnesses related incidents of what they termed discrimination against Negroes in housing, employment and other fields.

Weekly Steel Output Rate Receives 'Death Sentence'

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A death sentence has been pronounced again on the weekly steel output rate as a percentage of capacity.

Just how many lives this widely followed indicator of industrial health may prove to have is yet to be seen. But the steel industry has been anxious to get out of the glare of publicity the index casts in troubled times.

The output rate currently is just under 50 per cent of capacity. That is, the mills are producing around 1.4 million tons a week, compared with capacity of 2.8 million.

And the industry thinks the public draws too many conclusions from this: by overlooking the large amount of output in tonnage and in wondering about the build-up in capacity in recent years and when it might be fully used.

The steel capacity rate shares with the weekly auto output estimates the attention of the general public looking for guides as to whether times are likely to be good or bad. Steel men in particular dislike this concentration of interest, especially when times are slack and the future uncertain.

The American Iron Steel Institute tried to drop the index during the 1958 recession when the operating rate also was 50 per cent or lower. But with capacity known, too many persons figured the rate out pretty closely and published it anyway.

This time the institute indicates it won't make its annual January pronouncement on the new capacity figure. The question is: Will outsiders, knowing that capacity changed little in the 1960 compared with recent years, be able to estimate it fairly closely and once again figure the operating rate for themselves?

1. Capacity has grown so in recent years that a 50 per cent rate really turns out as much tonnage now as full operations did at the end of the war.

2. New techniques in steel production turn out more steel per new type mill than do the older ones, robbing capacity of much of its significance.

3. Many of the older mills are on the capacity rolls but are so obsolete they may not be fired up again except for emergencies, such as war.

4. The estimated 1960 tonnage at an average rate of less than 70 per cent for the year is estimated at nearly 100 million tons—an output that would have required 97 per cent of capacity 10 years ago.

Critics of the dropping of the traditional output rating contend:

1. Comparing today's tonnage with former years doesn't allow for the growth in the general economy and its normal needs.

2. The tonnage index the institute now proposes based on average tonnage output in 1957-59 overlooks that this base contained one year of good production, 1957, but also the recession year of 1958, and the strike disrupted year of 1959.

3. The steel industry is unduely sensitive to its showing in periods of slackness and to lack of understanding of its program of building for the future in adding to capacity during the 1950s.

Property Tax Cut

HAMILTON (AP) — Hamilton's property tax rate payable in 1961 has been set at $36.05 on each $1,000 of valuation as compared with $36.38 for 1960. County Auditor A. R. Tilton said the reduction was made possible by a 20-cent drop in state requirements and a reduction of interest needs on outstanding bonds.

Pair Indicted In Violation Of T-H Law

CLEVELAND (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted John J. Felice, a Teamsters Union official, and George S. Carter, former president of the Pilsener Brewing Co., on charges of receiving and giving money in violation of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Also named in the indictment were the brewing company and the City Products Corp., of which Pilsener is a wholly owned subsidiary.

The indictment charges the corporation and Carter, now president of the Leisy Brewing Co., gave Felice $4,500 on April 17, 1956. Felice, president and business manager of Teamsters Local 293, is charged with receiving the money.

The indictment was returned under a section of the Taft-Hartley Act which makes it unlawful for an employer to give money or valuables to an officer or employe of a union which represents or seeks to represent his employes.

Felice was unavailable for comment on the indictment. Carter said he would not make any comment "until I have had a chance to study the charges."

Officers of the City Products Corp. and Pilsener Brewing Co. declined to make any statement when reached at their headquarters in Chicago.

William Finegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland AFL-CIO Federation of Labor; the May Co. here and May Department Stores, Inc., of New York were scheduled for arraignment today on a similar indictment returned last Friday.

The companies were charged with giving and Finegan receiving $12,207 in the period from Jan. 1, 1949 to last Friday.

Lowe, of near Columbus had left his house for about three hours to visit his son. When he returned the glass paneling of the front door was broken.

Lowellville Man Shot To Death In Gangland Killing

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — John Schuler, 42, of Lowellville, was found shot to death Thursday night in what Trumbull County sheriff's deputies said apparently was a gangland killing.

His body was found beside his automobile on old Ohio 82 about a mile and a half east of Vienna. He had been hit by shotgun blasts in the chest, thigh and abdomen, deputies said.

Schuler, described by authorities as a hoodlum who was mixed up in rackets in the Youngstown area, apparently was changing a tire on his car when he was slain, officers said.

The body was found by Paul Landis, who lives nearby. He told deputies he heard what sounded like the backfire of an automobile and then a cry for help. He said he went to investigate and found Schuler's body.

Schuler was injured seriously nearly three yers ago when his car was bombed in Youngstown. He later was charged with possession of explosive when authorities found what they described as a "small arsenal" of dynamite and other explosives in his home. The case was turned over to the Mahoning County grand jury, which failed to return an indictment.

Schuler had filed suit for $350,000 against the American-Croatian Citizens Club of Youngstown for injuries suffered in the bombing, which occurred in the club's parking lot on Jan. 22, 1958. That case is pending.

Heavy Mails Pose Question

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown has a problem.

Postal cancelations are running 25,000 ahead of last year, which should be good news in view of his urging to mail early. But is it?

The problem: Are people mailing cards earlier than in other years, or is there more mail than ever?

If the cards are being mailed early, postal workers will breathe a sigh of relief. But if the mail volume has increased that much, postal workers wonder when the avalanche will hit.

Monday could be the day of decision. "If people sit at home Sunday getting cards ready and licking stamps, we'll be licked — period," the postmaster commented.

Brown said the windows at the Post Office will be open all day Saturday rather than observe the normal noon closing. Hours will be 7:45 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The first of the extra help began work Thursday morning. All those starting work took the department's clerk-carrier examination sometime ago.

The blizzard which struck the Eastern Seaboard last Sunday and Monday has delayed the arrival of parcel post, but first class mail has been moving on schedule, Brown said.

Brown said he learned from postal authorities in Pittsburgh that contract truckers hired to haul the parcels have been laid off. However, most of the parcel post should be released by Sunday.

Wreck Injuries Fatal To Dayton Woman, 65

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Miller, 65, of Dayton, who last Saturday saw her son married, died Thursday night of injuries received when the wedding party's car crashed Monday.

She succumbed in Bethesda Hospital here. The auto had cracked up at New Concord, 15 miles east of Zanesville, when it skidded on icy U. S. 40, slammed into a filling station and overturned.

The driver was Mrs. Miller's son Donald Miller, 19, the bridegroom. He escaped with cuts and bruises, as did his 17-year-old bride Joan and her mother, Mrs. Jeanette Bellows, 47, of Pawcatuck, Conn. The group was en route to Dayton following the wedding in the bride's home town.

Vending Machine Reported Looted By 'Rented' Keys

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati detective says vending machines in Cincinnati are being looted by use of master keys "rented" out by "a man across the river."

The statement came in Municipal Court Thursday from Detective Matt Meldon as Elbert Grace, 30, and Anthony Hoobler, 26, of Cincinnati were convicted of receiving stolen goods under a $60 value.

Representatives of two bottling concerns here said their losses from thefts from vending machines have been about $5,000 each in recent months.

Meldon said Grace and Hoobler told him the man who provided the keys took 40 per cent of the money taken from the machines. He said he asked the two how the man was assured of payment and they replied "we're his two boys and we wouldn't cheat the big man."

Judge Clarence Denning sentenced Grace and Hoobler to 60 days in the workhouse and fined them $100 and costs each — the maximum penalty.

When Congress appropriates funds to erect public buildings or make other local improvements to ingratiate the legislators with their constituents it is known as "pork barrel" legislation.

Heavy Mails Pose Question

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown has a problem.

Postal cancelations are running 25,000 ahead of last year, which should be good news in view of his urging to mail early. But is it?

The problem: Are people mailing cards earlier than in other years, or is there more mail than ever?

If the cards are being mailed early, postal workers will breathe a sigh of relief. But if the mail volume has increased that much, postal workers wonder when the avalanche will hit.

Monday could be the day of decision. "If people sit at home Sunday getting cards ready and licking stamps, we'll be licked — period," the postmaster commented.

Brown said the windows at the Post Office will be open all day Saturday rather than observe the normal noon closing. Hours will be 7:45 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The first of the extra help began work Thursday morning. All those starting work took the department's clerk-carrier examination sometime ago.

The blizzard which struck the Eastern Seaboard last Sunday and Monday has delayed the arrival of parcel post, but first class mail has been moving on schedule, Brown said.

Brown said he learned from postal authorities in Pittsburgh that contract truckers hired to haul the parcels have been laid off. However, most of the parcel post should be released by Sunday.

Wreck Injuries Fatal To Dayton Woman, 65

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Miller, 65, of Dayton, who last Saturday saw her son married, died Thursday night of injuries received when the wedding party's car crashed Monday.

She succumbed in Bethesda Hospital here. The auto had cracked up at New Concord, 15 miles east of Zanesville, when it skidded on icy U. S. 40, slammed into a filling station and overturned.

The driver was Mrs. Miller's son Donald Miller, 19, the bridegroom. He escaped with cuts and bruises, as did his 17-year-old bride Joan and her mother, Mrs. Jeanette Bellows, 47, of Pawcatuck, Conn. The group was en route to Dayton following the wedding in the bride's home town.

OSU Seniors To Hear Xavier U. President

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Very Rev. Paul O'Connor, president of Cincinnati's Xavier University, was the commencement speaker today as Ohio State University conducted autumn graduation exercises.

She came within a few hundredths of one per cent of a perfect grade average. A student from Ankara, Turkey. Selahattin Ilter, 35, received the first master of city planning degree ever awarded by Ohio State.

Vending Machine Reported Looted By 'Rented' Keys

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati detective says vending machines in Cincinnati are being looted by use of master keys "rented" out by "a man across the river."

The statement came in Municipal Court Thursday from Detective Matt Meldon as Elbert Grace, 30, and Anthony Hoobler, 26, of Cincinnati were convicted of receiving stolen goods under a $60 value.

Representatives of two bottling concerns here said their losses from thefts from vending machines have been about $5,000 each in recent months.

Meldon said Grace and Hoobler told him the man who provided the keys took 40 per cent of the money taken from the machines. He said he asked the two how the man was assured of payment and they replied "we're his two boys and we wouldn't cheat the big man."

Judge Clarence Denning sentenced Grace and Hoobler to 60 days in the workhouse and fined them $100 and costs each — the maximum penalty.

When Congress appropriates funds to erect public buildings or make other local improvements to ingratiate the legislators with their constituents it is known as "pork barrel" legislation.

Ohio College Assn. Opposes State's New Scholarship Plan

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio College Association opposes the state's new plan for granting scholarships to college students—at least in its present form.

Dr. Norman P. Auburn, OCA president and president of the University of Akron, said Thursday the chief cause of concern is the state's plan to solicit funds from private businesses for the scholarships.

He said in a statement the OCA questioned "the propriety of an agency of the State of Ohio, a governmental unit with taxing power, soliciting private funds for scholarships."

Ohio Scholarship Funds, Inc., was created by the legislature in 1959. Its nine - man board of trustees, appointed by the governor, expects to solicit funds from private sources with the state matching up to one-third of the contributions.

Scholarships would be granted on the basis of ability and need to graduates of Ohio high schools planning to attend colleges and universities in the state.

Auburn said OCA representatives met with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle last Friday and were told that a survey will be conducted to determine "the reception the proposed Ohio Scholarship Funds, Inc., would have among 'opinion leaders' in the state." G. A. Brakeley Co. of New York is to conduct the survey for OSF.

Auburn said that as a result of the meeting with the governor it was the OCA's understanding that the association "will be given the opportunity to review the results of the survey report when it is completed."

Palestine Man Fined

LISBON — Wayne Gerber, 21, of East Palestine was fined $5 and costs Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for driving a car with defective brakes. Mary Mulvaney, 33, of Massillon forfeited $15 bond for speeding. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Salineville Civic Club Plans Christmas Party

The Salineville Women's Civic Club's annual Christmas party will be held Tuesday night at 8 at the American Legion home. There will be a gift exchange and a covered dish.

Mrs. Charles Mundy is president. In charge of the program are Mrs. Bess Maple, Miss Nell Toban and Mrs. Merly Knox. Jerry Strabley, student at Kent State University, will speak on speech therapy.

Hospital Treats Pair Injured In Icy Falls

Ohio Soldier Hurt

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)—Cpl. Thomas W. Hubbard, 20, of Rock Creek, Ashtabula County, Ohio, is reported recovering from wounds suffered in an explosion Wednesday. Hubbard, stationed at Camp Pendleton, was one of four Marines injured when a ¾-inch, 2-foot-long length of lead pipe filled with gunpowder exploded as it was ignited. He was listed in good condition Thursday with minor injuries.
